SENATOR LANE'S SUCCESSOR.—It is thought the Governor will appoint either Judge Thatcher, of Lawrence, or Gen. Blunt, of Leavenworth, to fill the vacant seat of Senator Lane.

THE President has caused notice to be given that he does not intend to be present personally in the Philadelphia Convention. He don't think it would be delicate.

THE DUNKERS.—The Baltimore American denies that any such question as that concerning "the holy kiss" was ever proposed by the Dunkers. The lie was originated for partisan purposes by the Hagerstown (Md.) Mail, an intense Copperhead sheet, and was immediately denied.

A St. Louis dispatch says: There is a rumor on the street to the effect that the boats of the late Johnsonville Packet Company have been seized by the Government for alleged fraudulent freight vouchers. It is stated that there is a discrepancy of over $100,000 between the amount of freight bills received by the Government and the vouchers paid.

THE brig Rodman Pratt, from Baltimore to Falmouth, England, with 2,000 barrels of petroleum, was destroyed by fire on the 8th inst., in lat. 40, lon. 70. On discovering the fire the main hatch was removed, when the flames burst, the whole cargo appearing to be on fire. So rapidly did the flames extend that the crew barely escaped in a boat, saving nothing but what they stood in. They were without food or drink until the night of the 10th when they were picked up.

The Gettysburg Battle Picture.

Governor Curtin and the Legislative Committeemen, having finished their labors, left Gettysburg on Friday. Friday morning the final agreement was signed by the artist Rothermel, by the Governor, and by the committee, the principal points of which are as follows: The painting is to be executed in the best style of art, and is not to be less than thirty feet long and fifteen feet high. It is to embrace a landscape view, with a battle scene in large figures, embodying some great epoch in the terrible fight which it is to represent. In point of accuracy it must be historically true, and must be finished three years from this date. In connection it is to contain the great conflicts of the battle and interesting episodes. The design for the principal painting is to be executed in a study six feet long by five feet wide, and is to be finished in a year. The principal painting will be the grand rebel charge on Hancock's corps, July 3d, the subsequent defeat, and the great struggle of the whole battle.

TELEGRAPHIC SUMMARY.

The gentlemen who became bail for Head Center Stevens, in Boston, in the suit of P. A. Sinnot, have turned him over to the constables, and he is now confined in jail.

Much excitement exists in financial circles in New York, caused by alleged frauds in connection with the North River Bank of Hoboken. It is said worthless notes, bonds, stocks, &c., have been taken to the bank and deposited, for which certificates of deposit bearing interest were issued. With these certificates of deposite purchases have been made of real estate, merchandise, &c., in this city, and various parts of the country. It is thought Wall street is flooded with this paper. George W. Chatwick, who is supposed to be Vice President of the Bank, has been arrested and committed. Samuel Jackson was also arrested as an accomplice.

A fire broke out in Concord, N. H., on Friday evening, which destroyed Ford & Kimball's extensive iron foundry, with the outbuildings, B. A. Denkill & Co.'s large machine shops, and three dwelling houses. The loss amounts to $40,000, less than half of which was insured.

The Louisiana Baptist Convention have taken decided steps for the education of soldiers' orphans.

The United States revenue cutter Delaware was recently saluted and visited by the Spanish Consul at Galveston.

General W. T. Sherman was formally received on Saturday morning at the City Hall, Boston, the members of the city government and a large number of citizens uniting to give him welcome. Short speeches were made, and a band of music was in attendance. The affair passed off with great cheering and general satisfaction. At ten o'clock the General proceeded to the State House, where he was received by Governor Bullock, and warmly welcomed to the hospitalities of the Old Bay State. Several officers of the Second and Thirty-third Massachusetts regiments, which were in Sherman's army in his march to the sea, were there to greet their old commander. Among them were Generals Underwood and Coggswell. The battle flags of the regiments were displayed, and the scene was one of great interest. In the afternoon General Sherman visited the Navy Yard, Bunker Hill, Harvard College and other places of interest. To-day there will be a grand reception in Faneuil Hall, and on Tuesday he will take his departure for Hanover, N. H., passing through Lowell. General Sherman goes to New Hampshire to attend the commencement of Dartmouth College.

STATE ITEMS.

George W. Folk, of Salem township, Mercer county, who had been suffering for some time of a malignant disease of the knee, had his limb amputated on Monday evening. The operation was performed by Dr. John Dickson, of Pittsburgh, assisted by Dr. F. Donaldson, of Mercer, and was very successful.

The journeymen tailors of Altoona, are on a strike. The "bosses" entered into an agreement to cut down the wages on and after Monday last. The jours refused to stand the reduction, and quit work.

A match of a novel character was made in Union Mills on Thursday last, for $50 a side, between Thomas Jarmy, the champion hammer thrower, and Henry Goss, of Union Mills. The match is as follows: To win, Mr. Jarmy will be obliged to throw a six pound hammer two yards further than his opponent, Mr. Goss, throws a pebble finger stone weighing seven ounces. The match is to take place on the 27th of July, at the Athletic Games, on the Meadville Driving Park.

DEATH OF A REMARKABLE COLORED MAN.—Tony Nelson, an old colored man, died near Suffolk, Virginia, and was buried on the 4th inst., in the 94th year of his age. This old man was formerly a servant in the Washington family, and helped to cut what is known as the "Washington ditch," a canal leading from the western margin of the Dismal Swamp to Drummond's lake, an enterprise which was projected by General Washington. Tony had never lived during his life two miles from the Dismal Swamp, and most of his time in the Swamp. He had been the husband of twenty-one wives, six of whom are now living, and yet in his extreme old age and last sickness, no one of them would nurse him. Being freed by the proclamation of the President and subsequent action of the State, he died in extreme poverty.—Norfolk Virginian.

HOW TO ENJOY IT.—In a very learned and clever article on "Kissing," Charles Astor Bristed says:—"Finally, the man who really enjoy this beautiful interchange of lips and hearts, must not practice it promiscuously. There should be no limit to the number of kisses, but very decided limit to the number of kissed. Make it common and you debase and destroy it, at once."

ALLEGED CHOLERA IN PHILADELPHIA.—As to the reports that cases of cholera had occurred on board the steamer Chattanooga, the surgeon of that ship says: The simple facts are these. We have had some sickness on board, and three deaths, caused solely by imprudence in over-eating unripe vegetables, but as the cause has been removed, it will now cease.

Senatorial Caucus.

The Republican Senators held a caucus this evening, and arrived at important conclusions. After full discussion, they agreed to adjourn finally, the House concurring, on Monday, the 23d. It was also agreed that the pending bill to regulate appointments to office should not be acted upon at this session, but that the President should have a fair trial, and if he made an improper use of his patronage, something could be done to put a check on him in December.

The Adjourned Caucus

Of the Republican members of both Houses met to-night in the Hall of Representatives, Gen. Banks presiding. Before proceeding to business, a complete search was made to see if any one was secreted in the galleries. Senator Wilson, Chairman of the select committee appointed at the last caucus, reported a resolution for the final adjournment of Congress on Monday, the 23d. Thad. Stevens moved to lay this resolution on the table, and the motion was defeated, yeas 40, nays 60. The resolution was then adopted.

On motion of Henry J. Raymond, the usual requirement of secrecy was dispensed with.

Mr. Sherman made a speech, which was loudly applauded. He said the Union party must stand firm and united, and cease to hope for any support from the President, who was certain to go against them. He could speak for Ohio, and say that Executive patronage could not be used to operate against the Union party. He favored an early adjournment, that members might return to their homes to meet the issues before the people.

Mr. Colfax spoke of the impossibility of adjourning so early as the 23d, on account of the large amount of business yet before the two Houses.

A joint resolution that both Houses adjourn sine die on Monday, the 23d instant, will be introduced on Monday, 16th.

Cabinet Resignations.

Although the friends of Secretary Harlan and Attorney General Speed claim that they have both written their letters of resignation, yet the President, at nine o'clock to-night, had not received them. No doubt is felt of their withdrawal by the middle of next week. They remain only on the ground of imperative business interests.

Nomination of Gov. Randall.

The nomination of Governor Randall as Postmaster General, was sent to the Senate to-day, and briefly considered in Executive session. The indications are somewhat favorable to his confirmation.

The Rousseau-Grinnell Case.

The temper of the House to-day was very clearly against the expulsion of Gen. Rousseau. The pending motion is to abandon the matter. The House will vote on it Monday.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Commercial.

WASHINGTON, July 15, 1866.

Bridging the Mississippi.

The House yesterday had a protracted debate on the question of making the bridge across the Mississippi at Clinton, Iowa, a post route. It seemed to be a contest of steamboats on one hand and railroads on the other. Representative Morgan, of Missouri, charged that members on the floor were paid attorneys of certain railroad corporations. After a two hours' controversy, the proposition was rejected. In the Committee on Post Roads, several delegations of Western men have appeared for and against declaring the bridge a post route, thereby legalizing it.

Indian Affairs.

The Commissioner of Indian Affairs yesterday received a dispatch from the Special Indian Commissioner at Fort Rice, dated June 21, 1866, in which he says: "We have this morning arrived at this place, eight days from Fort Sully. We find here assembled six hundred and sixty two lodges, or more than thirty-five hundred Indians. Shall hold a council as soon as we can get the Indians together. There are at this fort four hundred regulars. I wrote you about the time we left Sully. We left the Indians there feeling well over their annuities, presents and provisions. We understand that quite a number of Indians at this place, being tired of waiting, have gone to their hunting grounds."

Treasury Disbursements.

The disbursements of the Treasury on account of the War, Navy and the Interior Departments in the week ending July 14th are as follows: War Department, $365,135 17; Navy Department, $605,986; Interior Department, $147,516 20. Total, $1,118,638 45.

Governor Dennison.

Leaves for Ohio to-morrow. He intends to enter upon the campaign in the Western States.

A Denial.

An authoritative denial is furnished of the story that Secretary Harlan wrote a letter to the caucus urging Congress to remain in perpetual session, and at the same time furnishing the details of a Cabinet meeting.

WASHINGTON, July 14.

THE CAUCUS.

The Republicans of the Senate and the House of Representatives held an adjourned caucus meeting to-night at the Capitol, Gen. Banks in the chair, to hear the report of the committee heretofore appointed with reference to the condition of public business and an adjournment. They stated their views at some length, but recommend that a day be not now fixed. After several gentlemen had spoken on the subject, Representative Washburne, of Illinois, offered a resolution expressing the opinion that the state of the business was such that Congress can adjourn sine die on next Monday week. This was the impression of the majority, for the resolution was agreed to by a vote of 60 against 40.

INTERESTING CORRESPONDENCE.

The following correspondence has just been promulgated:

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 11th, 1866.

SIR:—I have the honor to tender you herewith my resignation of the office of Postmaster General, to take effect upon your notifying me of its acceptance. In thus withdrawing from your Cabinet, it is proper to say that I do so chiefly because of the difference of opinion between us in regard to the proposed amendment of the Constitution, which I approve, and the movement for the Convention to be held at Philadelphia on the fourteenth proximo, to which I am opposed. My confidence in the patriotism of the Union Republican party, and conviction that upon its control of the Government depend in a large measure the happiness of the country, will not permit of my holding an equivocal attitude in regard to it.

Assuring you of my personal regard and appreciation of the uniform courtesy I have received from you, I am, very respectfully yours, etc.,

(Signed) W. DENNISON.

To the President.

EXECUTIVE MANSION,
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 14, 1866.

SIR:—Your resignation of the office of Postmaster General, tendered in your letter of the eleventh inst. is duly accepted.

Fully appreciating your kind assurance of personal regard, I am, very truly and respectfully yours,

(Signed) ANDREW JOHNSON.

To the Hon. Wm. Dennison, Washington, D.C.

ADJOURNMENT.

Notwithstanding the Republican caucus last night expressed their desire for an adjournment sine die on to-morrow week, it is not certain it will take place on the 23d, as a number of the working men in both houses do not think so early a day practicable.

REPORT CONTRADICTED.

A report has found its way into print that Secretary Harlan wrote a letter to the Republican caucus, in which he elaborately detailed conversations in the Cabinet, and advised the radical members of Congress to remain in perpetual session, but there is the best authority for stating he wrote no letter, and had no communication with the caucus.

REFERRED.

The nomination of A. W. Randall to be Postmaster General has been referred to the Senate Postoffice Committee, as is usual.

INTERNAL REVENUE BILL SIGNED.

The President, on Friday, signed the Internal Revenue bill. The Internal Revenue Bureau at once commenced complying with the laws of which it is amendatory, and the preparation of instructions and regulations.

MEXICAN AFFAIRS.

The elaborate report of the Committee on Foreign Affairs on the subject of Mexico, will be presented to the House early this week. It strongly sustains the Monroe doctrine.

HEAVY TAXES.

A letter from Puebla, Mexico, dated June 27th, just received, says the last tax imposed by Maximilian on real estate is exorbitant. It amounts to a seventeenth per cent. on proceeds, with other very onerous duties.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—The first stage on the new route between Chico, California, and Idaho came through in three days. It is believed that Idaho trade heretofore conducted via Columbia river will, by this route, be brought to California direct. Uncertainty about the tariff unsettles the market for imported goods. There is a fair demand for wheat at full figures. Flour, $6 25 per barrel.

Arrived, the ships Ivanhoe, Merriman and Samuel G. Glover, all from New York. The latter reports George Thompson, seaman, of New Haven, drowned at sea.

Report of Committee on Case of Gen. Rousseau.

WASHINGTON, July 14, 1866.

SENATE.

On motion of Mr. WILSON, the bill to equalize bounties was made the special order for Tuesday at one o'clock.

Mr. EDMUNDS called up the House resolution for the appointment of a joint committee of two Senators and three Representatives on the subject of retrenchment, to sit during the recess of Congress and report by bill or otherwise.

On motion of Mr. SHERMAN, the resolution was amended so as to apply to the military and naval as well as the civil service of the Government.

Mr. ANTHONY moved to amend by inserting a provision that the committee inquire into the expediency of so changing the method of appointments to the civil service as to put them beyond the power of being used for political purposes. It provides for the retention of appointees during good behavior, &c. Adopted.

Mr. EDMUNDS moved to amend by making the committee consist of three Senators and five Representatives. Adopted.

Mr. JOHNSON inquired whether this was a joint resolution to be submitted to the President.

Mr. EDMUNDS said it was not. It was a simple resolution of inquiry by the two Houses. The resolution as amended was adopted.

The bill for the equalization of bounties was made the special order in the Senate for Tuesday next.

Mr. JOHNSON reported a bill for the relief of the sufferers by the Portland fire. It authorizes the President to cause to be purchased such provisions and clothing and such other articles as he shall deem advisable, and to tender the same in the name of the Government of the United States, to the State of Maine, for the relief of the citizens who have suffered by the late fire in the city of Portland. It appropriates a sum of not exceeding $50,000. The bill was ordered to be printed.

Mr. FESSENDEN called up the civil appropriation bill, which passed the House yesterday, and on his motion it was referred to the Finance Committee.

Mr. POMEROY, from the Committee of Conference, on the bill granting lands for the Contractors of the Northern Kansas Railroad, made a report which was ordered to lie over and be printed.

Mr. POLAND called up the Bankrupt bill, which was made the special order for Monday.

Mr. HARRIS called up the bill authorizing the Secretary of the Interior to lease to responsible parties such of the public lands as contain mineral springs, lying east of the 102d meridian of longitude, the lease to be for a term of years not exceeding twenty-five, subject to readjustment every five years, the rental to be not less than the income tax paid by those who now own mineral springs.

Mr. CONNESS opposed the bill as opposed to the principles of the Government, based upon the idea that, whatever is good belongs to the sovereign and not to the subject. The whole system was wrong.

After discussion, Mr. GRIMES moved to postpone the bill until the first Monday in December.

Before reaching a vote on the above motion, the morning hour expired, and the bill to secure the speedy construction of the Northern Pacific Railroad, was taken up.

Mr. SHERMAN spoke in opposition to the bill. This road had already received forty-seven millions of acres of land, on promise to build the road for that. It now asked the Government to give it one hundred and twenty two millions, five hundred and seventy-one thousand, six hundred dollars, on the insufficient security of one-half the lands which they received as grants. This bill, in a less objectionable form, was defeated in the House and voted down by a heavy majority. It was framed with a special view of evading a rule of the House requiring all bills appropriating money to be referred to a committee. It would be dragged from the Speaker's table and pushed through the House. The passage of such a bill as this would impair public confidence in the credit of the Government, and Congress had been altogether too willing to embark in such an enterprise.

Without action on the bill, the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The House resumed as the business in the morning hour the consideration of the Senate bill to authorize the construction of bridges over the Mississippi for Railroad purposes, the pending question being on an amendment reported from the Postoffice Committee, reserving the right to Congress to cause the removal of all obstructions to the navigation of the river that may be caused by such bridges.

On motion of Mr. ALLISON, an amendment was agreed to authorizing the construction of a bridge across the Missouri river at Kansas City.

Mr. ALLEY offered an amendment declaring the bridge across the Mississippi at Clinton, Iowa, a post road and highway of the United States, provided it does not materially obstruct navigation.

Mr. WASHBURNE, of Illinois, asked Mr. Alley to accept a modification, in the shape of a proviso that the bill shall not interfere with any law suits now pending in any court in reference to that bridge, and that the section shall not take effect until the bridge shall be made to conform its width of draw to that required in other bridges referred to in the act.

Mr. ALLEY declined to accept it, or to yield to the offering of it.

Mr. WASHBURN protested against this as one of the most important measures of this session, involving the interest of eight millions of people being forced through under the previous question. He appealed to the judgment, to the honesty and fairness of the House to say whether it would confine the discussion of this grave matter to a single hour.

Mr. ALLEY, of Mass., said he was quite willing to discuss the matter thoroughly, but at this period of the session he could not consent to have the time of the House taken up in this matter. He would allow ten minutes to the gentleman from Missouri (Hogan), and ten minutes to the gentleman from Illinois (Washburne).

Mr. HOGAN expressed, sarcastically, his wonderful obligations to the gentleman from Massachusetts for giving ten minutes to discuss a measure of such incalculable importance to his constituents and the people of the West. The ordinance of 1787 required the Mississippi and its tributaries to be forever free and unobstructed to all the people of the United States, and now the gentleman from Massachusetts (Alley) came here at the bidding, and by permission of the great monopolies of the country, to destroy that navigation, and take away from the people their right as citizens to the free navigation of the greatest river in the world, while he, (Hogan) and perhaps others were condescendingly allowed ten minutes to present their argument against the measure. These great monopolies have their agents on this floor. They have their interested stockholders here to vote on this measure. They have their feed attorneys here to vote on this measure to rob the people of the West of their great God given right to navigate freely the great Mississippi river.

Mr. BOUTWELL rose to a question of order, excepting to the words last spoken and requiring them to be taken down and read at the clerk's desk.

The SPEAKER decided that the words excepted to were out of order, as being a reflection upon members of the House.

Mr. RANDALL, of Pennsylvania, suggested that the real question was, whether the statement was true.

Mr. HOGAN disclaimed any wish to say anything improper, and he would not have made any such reflection if debate had been allowed.

Mr. BOUTWELL interrupted, and claimed the House had a right to know whether the gentleman adhered to what he said or retracted it.

Mr. HOGAN said he preferred, as the words were clearly not proper, to withdraw them.

Mr. BOUTWELL urged that that was not a sufficient retraction, and wanted to know whether the gentleman (Hogan) meant to maintain his position.

Mr. THAYER said he thought the gentleman from Missouri had done all that the House required, and moved that he be allowed to proceed in order. The motion was agreed to.

Mr. BANKS claimed, as the journal would show the words that were ruled out of order, it should also show the retraction.

The SPEAKER, referring to the rule of the subject, decided that that was not required by the rule.

Mr. ASHLEY, of Ohio, wanted the gentleman from Missouri to be required to explain what he said about railroad corporations having feed attorneys on the floor.

The SPEAKER ruled that the House had passed upon the matter, and had given the gentleman from Missouri permission to proceed in order.

Mr. ASHLEY moved to reconsider that vote. The motion was laid on the table, and Mr. Hogan proceeded with his argument. He called the attention of the House to the fact that in 1865, the registered tonnage of steamers of the Mississippi river and its tributaries was 212,114 tons; that there were nine hundred and ten steamers engaged in that navigation, covering nearly thirty million dollars, and that its commerce was equal to the whole foreign commerce of the United States.

Mr. ALLEY said that the argument of the gentleman from Missouri was more to the general merits of the bill than to the specific amendment. The only difference between this bridge and the other bridges proposed to be authorized was that the width of the draw of the Clinton bridge was not of equal width to that required by the others, being only 120 feet in the clear. It had been in preparation for eighteen months, and was a structure of most substantial character, built in the best possible manner. The proposition was simply that that bridge be declared a post road. The trouble about it was, that it interfered in the rivalry between St. Louis and Chicago, the bridge being of advantage to Chicago. The city of Galena was somewhat in the predicament of St. Louis, and any body who had served in the House with the member from Illinois so long as he (Alley) had served, knew very well that measures which did not bring any toll to his mill, and by his mill he meant the city of Galena, never received much favor at his hands.

Mr. WASHBURNE, of Illinois, called the gentleman to order, excepting to the last part of his remarks.

The words objected to having been written down and read from the Clerk's desk, the SPEAKER overruled the point of order, not deeming the words offensive.

Mr. WASHBURNE desired to be heard on that point, but the Speaker ruled that the matter was not debatable.

Mr. ALLEY, after some further remarks, yielded half an hour of his time to Mr. WASHBURNE, of Illinois, who denounced the amendment in regard to the Clinton bridge as a most outrageous measure. These railroad companies wanted to dam up the Mississippi river, and to make all the commerce of the country tributary to them. If they dam that great and majestic highway of commerce, then they would raise their rates for transportation as much as they chose. The Rock Island bridge had caused in five years, from 1854 to 1859, the loss of sixty four steamers, of the value of two millions of dollars, and many rafts of lumber.

Mr. PRICE rose and declared that although he lived within sight of the Rock Island bridge he had never heard of more than 3 boats having been wrecked. The statement about 64 boats having ever been wrecked there was news to him.

Mr. WASHBURNE, of Illinois, remarked that he thought it might be news to the gentleman from Iowa, but he would prove it in the book he had before him, and the report of the Committee of Engineers appointed by the War Department several years ago to examine into the question of the Rock Island bridge.

Mr. HARDING, of Illinois, said he concurred with the views of his colleague, (Mr. Washburne), in regard to the Clinton bridge, and he hoped it would not be legalized in this bill.

The question was taken and the amendment was rejected, yeas 34, nays 66.

Mr. HOGAN moved to lay the bill and amendments on the table, which was negatived. The bill was then passed.

The House proceeded to the consideration of the report of the select committee in the case of the breach of privilege charged against Mr. Rousseau, in assaulting Mr. Grinnell, for words spoken in debate.

The committee, after reviewing the case at considerable length, reported: They are of the opinion that in assaulting Mr. Grinnell on account of words spoken in debate, and for the acknowledged purpose of disgracing him as a member of the House, and thereby depriving him of his due and just influence and power as a member, that Mr. Rousseau committed an inexcusable breach of the privileges of this House, as well as of the people represented by Mr. Grinnell, for which no provocation or justification can be pleaded, which merits the strongest condemnation in the power the House to impose. The committee then reviewed the charges of cowardice made against Mr. Rousseau, which they found untenable, but deny that this justified Mr. Rousseau in his course. They therefore recommend the House to express its disapprobation of the personal reflection of Mr. Grinnell upon the character of Mr. Rousseau as a violation of orders of the House, and a breach of privilege. The Committee also recommend that persons who were present, armed, for the express purpose of preventing interference, be brought before the bar of the House and held subject to its order. The Committee further urge rigid adherence to the rules of the House relative to personalities in debate. The Committee close their lengthy report with resolutions as follows:

Resolved, That the Hon. Lovell H. Rousseau, a representative from Kentucky, by committing an assault upon the person of the Hon. J. B. Grinnell, a representative from the State of Iowa, for words spoken in debate, has justly forfeited his privileges as a member of this House, and is hereby expelled.

Resolved, That the personal reflections made by Mr. Grinnell, representative from the State of Iowa, in presence of the House, upon the character of Mr. Rousseau, a representative from the State of Kentucky, were a violation of the rules regulating debate, and the privileges of its members founded thereon, and merit the disapproval of the House.

Resolved, That Charles D. Pennebaker, of Kentucky, L. B. Grigsby, of Kentucky, and John S. McGraw, of Ohio, by their presence and participation in a premeditated assault by Hon. Mr. Rousseau, of Kentucky, on Hon. Mr. Grinnell, of Iowa, on account of words spoken in debate, in which the persons, if not the lives, of members of this House were imperiled, were guilty of a violation of its privilege, and they are hereby ordered to be brought to the bar of this House to answer for their contempt of its privileges.

[Signed] R. P. SPALDING,
N. P. BANKS,
M. RUSSELL THAYER.

The undersigned concur with the majority of the committee in holding that General Rousseau, in his assault upon Mr. Grinnell, was guilty of a violation of the privileges of this House, for which there was no justification, but considering the provocation received by General Rousseau, the wanton and unjust imputations cast upon his military character and services, the failure of the House to protect him from an assault, unwarrantable in itself, and a violation of the privileges of the House, and the absence of any intention to inflict severe bodily injury upon Mr. Grinnell, they are of opinion that expulsion is a punishment more severe than justice or the public interest requires. They therefore recommend the adoption of the following substitute for the first of the series reported by the majority of the Committee:

Resolved, That the Hon. Lovell H. Rousseau be summoned to the bar of the House, and there be publicly reprimanded by the Speaker for the violation of the rights and privileges of the House, of which he was guilty in the personal assault committed by him upon the Hon. J. B. Grinnell, for words spoken in debate.

In recommending the adoption of the other resolutions reported by the committee, the undersigned fully concur.

[Signed] HENRY J. RAYMOND,
JOHN HOGAN.

Mr. WILSON raised a point of order on the second resolution. He maintained that as the House had neglected to call Mr. Grinnell to account when the objectionable words were spoken, it cannot now take action against him. The SPEAKER delivered a long opinion, and finally ruled the resolution in order.

Mr. SPALDING opened the debate. He advocated the expulsion of Mr. Rousseau as an example; at the same time he spoke in the highest terms of the patriotism and bravery of that gentleman; but the more elevated the character of Rousseau, the greater the necessity of inflicting punishment. He (Spalding) would do violence to his conscience by voting for anything less than expulsion.

Mr. SPALDING was several times interrupted by questions from other gentlemen.

Messrs. ELDRIDGE and JOHNSON contended that the House had no jurisdiction over the outside parties named in the second resolution. They have not been notified that they were charged with an offense, and had not enjoyed the privilege of producing or cross-examining witnesses.

Mr. HALE offered the following as an amendment for the first resolution of the committee:

Resolved, That the House, while expressing its unqualified condemnation and reprobation of the practice of personal reflection and remarks on the floor of the House, reflecting on the character of members, and also of acts of violence towards members on any provocation of words, however severe and unmerited, and while expressly asserting its power and authority to protect the privileges of its members both as respects person and character, yet, under all the circumstances of the case, deems it inexpedient to take any further action on the matter of privilege now pending, so far as affecting Hon. Lovell H. Rousseau and Hon. J. B. Grinnell.

Mr. HALE yielded to a motion to adjourn, when Mr. NIBLACK, from the Committee on Appropriations reported the bill to provide for and to regulate the compensation of Senators, Representatives and Delegates in Congress. Read twice, ordered to be printed and postponed till Wednesday next. The bill fixes the compensation at $5,000 for each member of Congress, and mileage at the rate of ten cents per mile. The President of the Senate is to have the same compensation as the Vice President of the United States, and the Speaker is to have double the compensation of members, except as to mileage, which is to be the same. In case of a death of a member, his representatives are to receive at the rate of $4,000 per annum, from the date of the commencement of Congress up to the time of the death, and the compensation is to be paid from that day. The bill is to apply to the members of the present Congress, from the 4th of March, 1866, except as to mileage.

Mr. SHELLABARGER, from the special committee on the charges against Mr. Conkling, reported in part with the testimony and the arguments of counsel, which was laid on the table and ordered to be printed. The report lawfully exonerates Mr. Conkling, and brands the statement in General Fry's letter as not only unfounded in fact but maliciously untrue.

The House at 4:30 adjourned.

THE PHILADELPHIA CLERICAL SCANDAL.

The Prosecutrix an Oil City "Walter Girl."

As a matter of justice to the accused, we publish the card of Rev. Wm. D. Siegfried, relative to the charge preferred against him by Mrs. Elizabeth Bayard, of Pittsburgh. He says: "I only wish to say that, in due time, I shall expose to the public one of the most infamous cases of 'black mail' which ever startled any community. The woman referred to was a subject of charity, as were many other indigent females, during the last winter, in connection with the charitable institution with which I am connected. After the severity of the winter passed away, her frequent appeals for aid were denied, as ours was an institution for the benefit of poor children. Not long after this, notes were addressed to me demanding moneys, and threatening injury to my character if the demand was not met. It has but recently appeared how this injury was to be inflicted. To numerous threatening notes I have paid no attention. No two of the notes were in the same handwriting, but all from the same source, and all demanding money—first beginning with two hundred dollars, and reaching up as high, finally, as two thousand dollars! All these were accompanied with threats of injury to my character.

"Recently a note was received stating that if I would pay $1,000 it would 'save me.' Paying no attention to this, the next proceeding against me was that before the magistrate. The whole transaction is most infamous, and I only ask of the public the exercise of that charity which is due from man to man, until I make these things appear before the proper tribunal, before which I have chosen to appear rather than to succumb to a villainous effort to extort money. Evidence is abundant, and attainable, which will enable me to establish my innocence of the base charges made by the perjured victim of a conspiracy most infamous.

"In order that the Home for Little Wanderers may not suffer under these circumstances, I have tendered to the worthy board my resignation of the office of superintendent, and must gratefully acknowledge the sympathy shown me. I beg of the charitable public to rally to the continued support of the institution, whose interests lie near my heart, and which its friends will not allow to suffer."

The Philadelphia Gazette of Saturday says:—A further hearing in the prosecution against Rev. William D. Siegfried, as already reported, came off yesterday forenoon, before Alderman Shoemaker. The defendant was not present. It was attested by gentlemen of undoubted credibility that he was too ill to leave his bed. The female who is the prosecutrix was in attendance, and was subjected to further examination. The details are too gross for publication. The reporter, in the simple performance of his duty, has placed on record that, on four important points of the testimony, as previously taken, she directly contradicted herself. With all the natural tendency to espouse the cause of a woman claiming to be alone and unprotected, the sympathy of the assemblage yesterday present at the Alderman's office seemed to have left the prosecutrix, and to have passed over to the side of the defendant. The former admitted that she had spent four months in Oil City, at a time when the petroleum fever was at its crisis, and when the population of that place, like the population of this city, during the war, was made up of adventurers from every section of the globe. Pressed in cross examination, she also admitted that she had been employed for four months as a "walter girl" in a drinkery. She said, also, that the $2000 in her money-belt, of which she claimed that Mr. Seigfried had deprived her, had been constantly carried about her for six years. Her first statement was that she had inherited the money but three years before.

It now looks as though Mr. Siegfried's card, published in our issue of Wednesday, was a reliable statement, and that, as he claims, he is the victim of a terrible conspiracy. It is true that he is under bonds to answer a charge of fraud in connection with a coal oil company, as the result of an exparte hearing. Together with him, on that occasion, was placed under like bonds, one of the most patriotic and prominent Baptist clergymen of the community. Until Mr. Siegfried is sufficiently well to make his appearance before the magistrate the case will not be disposed of.

John Bull in a Friendly Mood.

The London Times commences an article on the Miantonomah—they keep talking about her—after this fashion:

To say that the Americans are a great people is but to repeat a universally acknowledged apothegm. They build a city, launch a fleet, or set an army in the field in about the same space of time it would occupy us, in this grand, old, but slow-moving country, to discuss the preliminaries. A pressing national want felt by them is supplied at once, without reference to bewildered and bewildering "select committees." Theoretical problems, in the art of war especially, are reduced, with astonishing celerity, into a practical, definite form, and the work, when completed, stands forth an accomplished fact, with its virtues and its faults freely open to the criticism of all Europe, and it is, under all conditions, a striking monument of the energy, decision and practical business sense of the statesmen and people of the youngest and most powerful among the world's family of nations.

CONGRESSMEN — THEIR NATIVITY AND NAMES.—The Smith family have had 19 members in Congress, while the Johnsons number 29, the Browns 26, the Whites 22, the Thompsons 31, the Joneses 20, the Wilsons 30, the Millers 18, the Moores 18, and the Taylors 15. Of the 232 members in both houses, 70 were born in New England, 50 in New York, while the remainder are about equally divided between the Middle and Western States, except two born in Ireland, one in Scotland, one in Bavaria and one in Canada.

FROM BRIDGEWATER, PA.

Adjourned to meet at the call of the President.

The camp meeting determined upon in the above proceedings, will be held near Enon Valley Station, on the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad, beginning on Thursday, 30th August next. It is expected to be a grand affair—a good old-fashioned sort of a Methodist jubilee. This centenary year seems to be waking up the old fire and enthusiasm, and Allegheny District is bound not to be least or last in its movements.

CHURCH IMPROVEMENTS.

In Palestine measures are being taken to erect a "steepled" M. E. Church of frame, forty one feet front by fifty-six feet deep, at a cost of some $4,000. A good portion of the money is on subscription and we doubt not that the "live men" of that enterprising vicinity will "put it through." At Beaver a parsonage is being erected for the accommodation of the pastor of the M. E. Church, and among the buildings in process of erection, we note one by the minister of the Presbyterian Church, Mr. Lowry.

THE SHOW.

Last Sunday was made memorable in the annals of "Child-dom," and this place, by the passage, at early morn, of the show and "elephant" through our town. As the "elephant" seems to have an aversion to crossing covered bridges, it seemed good to its keepers to let him take to fording the water, for which the draining of the pool by the breaking away of the dam, was favorable. But he monstership with quiet dignity walked in. But he by no means felt inclined to walk out, and so for an hour or more he marched about attended by his satellite the dromedary, at times lying down and covering himself with the water and mud, and spouting it all around with his proboscis, to the no small delight of the multitude of juveniles and adults which lined either side of the creek. After patience had ceased to be a virtue in his keepers, a skiff was called into requisition, and sundry prods of a "sharp stick" were made effectual in inducing him to leave his aquatic sport, and to follow the rest of the caravan to Beaver, where, on Monday, the curious in such matters were duly edified by the show and circus. The breach in the dam is now being rapidly repaired, and soon navigation, now suspended on this "canal," will be resumed.

"GOOD TEMPLARS' PICNIC."

The Lodge of "Good Templars" of this place, were out on Thursday last for a picnic at Logan's station. A large attendance was had—the Templars now number some seventy. A fine lot of baskets were up with them, and from morning until 5 P. M., they had a good time. All were delighted with the sports, pastime, songs and employment of this which made up the employment of the speeding hours.

General Sherman in New England.

His Enthusiastic Reception at Different Points from Norwalk to Boston—Speeches, Incidents, etc.

General Sherman is the guest of the municipal authorities of Boston. He arrived at the "hub," on Friday last, and was received by Mayor Lincoln, and other representatives of the city government, at Cottage Farms Station, a few miles beyond Boston, while en route from Norwalk, Connecticut.

THE GENERAL'S PARTY.

The General's party consisted of his brother Judge Charles T. Sherman and wife, his daughter, Miss Maria Sherman, his niece, Miss Kate Willock, Colonel S. M. Bowman, of his staff, General Thomas, Kilby Smith, and Mr. Homer Brylington, of Norwalk.

THE JOURNEY.

The first stopping place on their journey was at Bridgeport, Conn., where a dense crowd greeted the arrival of the General, but the train waited only a very few minutes, and then resumed its course for New Haven, where General Sherman tarried for two hours.

THE YALE COLLEGE STUDENTS.

Five or six hundred students escorted him to Yale College, where he made a characteristic speech on the importance of a liberal education. He was afterwards formally received by the municipal authorities, and visited the Merchants' Exchange, where he addressed a large body of the business men of the city. At Hartford and Meriden large crowds gathered at the railroad depot to greet the General, but the train did not tarry long enough to admit of a speech from him.

HIS RECEPTION AT SPRINGFIELD.

At Springfield a half an hour's stop was made for dinner. Here the General was welcomed with a salute of cannon, and under escort of Mayor Briggs, he was conducted to the Massasoit House, where he delivered himself of the following speech to the crowd:

FELLOW CITIZENS—I cannot stop with you but a few minutes, and therefore there is no time for me to make speech. I thank you cordially, for the welcome you have extended to me. Some of you who are before me are fine workmen. You have made some capital muskets, and I trust I have made good use of them.

After leaving Springfield, the train made brief stops at Palmer and West Brookfield, where the General was joined by several gentlemen from Boston.

ANOTHER OFF-HAND SPEECH.

At Worcester, Massachusetts, Mayor Blake and a delegation of the Common Council paid their respects to the old hero. To the cry of "speech" the General said, in a pleasant, offhand style:

"I can't say much here, for I'm going to Boston, and there they'll draw me dry. There is not much in me any way; but what little there is, I must save carefully for Boston."

HIS RECEPTION AT BOSTON.

The next place of arrival was at Cottage Farms Station, where Mayor Lincoln, of Boston, met and extended the General the hospitalities of Boston.

General Sherman replied very briefly and in a voice which could scarcely be heard. He thanked the Mayor for his kind words. He felt that it was sacred ground. He was glad to visit Boston again, and at this time.

The General and his party were escorted to carriages, and the procession started for the city, passing through the pleasantest portion of Brookline and Roxbury to the Boston line, and then through the principal streets to Bowdoin square. The streets, the windows in houses and stores, the tops of sheds, every good point from which a view could be had, were crowded with the eager multitude. At many points flags were shown, and bouquets were thrown into the General's carriage by fair hands.

The same rooms occupied in the Revere House by General Grant and suite, last August, were prepared for General Sherman and party. In response to the deafening cries of the crowd in front of the hotel for a "speech,"

THE GENERAL "CAUTIOUS AMONG STRANGERS."

General Sherman said:

MY FRIENDS:—If you will be quiet I will say a few words. Gentlemen of Boston, I am a hundred times obliged to you for this call, and I hope that you will pardon me at once for saying so little. I can tell you nothing which I have not told you already. I do not know you. [Cries of "We know you!"] and I am a little cautious when I get among strangers. If you will give me time I will reconnoitre a little, when I will speak my mind more freely. I have no reason to expect so much attention, and if you will pardon me to-night, as I must take a little rest—for I have been five nights without sleep—I will be glad to meet you at any time, and in any manner your mayor may think best. [Cheers.]

On Saturday, the General and party visited several places of interest in and around the city, and at midnight he was serenaded by the 33d regiment band, which discoursed the music with which the General was wont to beguile himself while on "The March from Atlanta to the Sea."

A little girl, thirteen years of age, named Harriet Angel, who has been living for some time with Dr. Lyon, of Erie, started on Monday last for Ashtabula, to visit her uncle. Between Erie and the latter place, she fell in with a girl named Mary Shearer, who coaxed her to Cleveland. There she got her into the power of a scoundrel named William King. The three hired a room and King began to make proposals to her, which she indignantly rejected. The woman then read passages of Scripture to the girl, in order to prove there would be nothing wrong in the proposed act. The girl refused, while King, assisted by the woman, accomplished his purpose. The two brutes were arrested on Thursday, and were held for trial at the next court. The little girl is an orphan. Before going to Erie she resided at Akron.

IMPOSING ON MISFORTUNE.—The laborers of Portland have disgraced themselves by taking advantage of the circumstances resulting from the great fire in that place, to engage in a strike for higher wages. That class in Portland, thinking that the necessities of the sufferers will enable them to secure an unwarranted rate of wages, now refuse to work until their demand shall be complied with. We are glad to see that the city authorities of Portland have cut off those laborers from the benefits of the contributions that have been sent to Portland from other cities for distribution.

EQUALIZATION OF BOUNTIES.

The Cincinnati Confirmations.

Resignation of Attorney General Speed.

Secretary Harlan's Letter Prepared.

Stanton's Resignation but a Question of Time.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Commercial.

WASHINGTON, July 15, 1866.

Equalization of Bounties.

In the caucus last night it was the general understanding that the bill for the equalization of bounties would not be pressed to a vote at this session.

The Cincinnati Officers.

In Executive session, yesterday, motions were made to reconsider the confirmation of Harris and Carey, as Collectors of Internal Revenue at Cincinnati. It is alleged against Harris that he is President of the Johnson Club at Cincinnati, and part owner of a Johnson paper there, and it was said of Carey that he had been blowing hot and cold with the same breath on the Reconstruction question, indorsing Congress and the President, as he happened to be at the Capitol or the White House, when called upon for his views.

Gen. Logan

Is in town. His friends intend to serenade him to-morrow or night after, and it is said will make a speech advising Congress to remain in session to prevent the President from removing its friends from office.

Attorney General Speed

Has handed to the President his letter of resignation. While assigning the same political reasons for leaving the Administration as Gen. Dennison, he discusses them in his letter more at length. There is no doubt that certain business interests will compel Secretary Harlan to remain in the Cabinet for several days yet. He has, however, his letter of resignation prepared. Nothing is positively known of Secretary Stanton's intention, but it is asserted by his friends that his withdrawal is but a very brief question of time.

THE PHILADELPHIA CONVENTION.

Indorsement of Secretary Seward.

Special Dispatch to Pittsburgh Commercial.

WASHINGTON, July 16.

Secretary Seward has written a brief letter, fully indorsing the Philadelphia Convention. He says it is a lawful and patriotic movement, in the right direction, and may induce Congress to properly act. No better plan, he says, is offered, or even thought of.

INTERNATIONAL SCULLING MATCH.

Hamill Defeated in Both Races.

An Easy Victory Claimed for Kelley.

Report to be Received with Allowance

NO PARTICULARS GIVEN.

NEW YORK, July 15.—The steamer Nova Scotian brings the following in reference to the great sculling match: "The second boat race between Hamill, the American, and Kelley, the Englishman, on the Tyne, took place on the 5th, and again resulted in an easy victory for Kelley."

FROM AUGUSTA, GA.

Meeting of the Equal Rights Association.

AUGUSTA, GA., July 14.—The Georgia Equal Rights Association of Freedmen, representing twenty-four counties in the State, after a session of three days, has adjourned. The object of the Convention was to examine into the conduct of J. E. Bryant, President of the Association, and editor of the Loyal Georgian. Mr. Bryant was accused of wronging the freedmen. After an exparte hearing, without summoning witnesses, the investigating committee reported unfavorably to Mr. Bryant, adding a resolution condemning the way in which he applied the Loyal Georgian in attacking General Tillson, and denouncing him. In a speech General Tillson addressed the Convention, saying that it was his duty to inform the members that Bryant is a liar and a swindler. The course he is pursuing is injurious to the colored race. He urged the members against giving him any support or countenance. The Convention then passed a resolution thanking Gen. Tillson for his speech and information.

FROM BOSTON.

Serenade to General Sherman—Head Center Stephens Released.

BOSTON, July 15.—Last evening at the Revere House Gen. Sherman was serenaded by the band of the Thirty-third Massachusetts regiment, and subsequently addressed the surviving officers and men of the Thirty-third and Second regiments, who served with him on the march through Georgia.

Bail was given for Head Center Stephens late on Saturday night, and he was released from jail.

Arrest of a Supposed Murderer.

H. N. Durfee has been arrested in the Oil Regions of West Virginia and taken to the jail at Grand Rapids, Michigan, charged with the murder of Harriet Belidan, who was found dead near that place on the 24th of October last. Durfee and Mrs. Belidan were registered as husband and wife at a hotel in Grand Rapids, in October last, where they stayed over night and had with them a little girl. Next morning they went to the country in a carriage, and Durfee returned next day alone. The following day the little girl was found abandoned twenty miles north of Grand Rapids, and about thirty days afterwards the body of the woman was found in the woods, she, from all appearances, having been murdered. It was afterwards ascertained that Durfee and the deceased were never married.

Both Durfee and Mrs. Belidan were formerly residents of Beaver county, Pennsylvania, and shortly after the death of the husband of Mrs. Belidan, which was quite sudden, and was supposed by many to have been caused by poison, she went away with Durfee, with whom she had been on terms of intimacy, and, as it now appears, met her death at his hands.

THE PUBLIC DEBT.—The non-publication of the public debt statement on the 1st inst., occasions considerable dissatisfaction, the more so in that the Secretary of the Treasury is understood to have been dealing largely in Government securities in New York. It is stated at the Treasury that the actual reduction in the principal of the Public Debt in June was nearly $20,000,000. During the same period about the same amount of the Five-twenties were sold, and certificates of indebtedness to the amount of $11,000,000 redeemed. The complete statement of the debt for the last fiscal year will not be ready before the 1st of August. The manner in which the Treasury Department is managed now-a-days, and the way in which the market for United States Securities is manipulated by the Department are, we believe, without a precedent. The present Secretary can safely claim to be entirely original in his mode of procedure.

IDLE YOUNG MEN AT THE SOUTH.—The Lynchburg Virginian says: "There are vast numbers of young men in the South living in idleness, which we regret very much to see. This, says a contemporary, was tolerable when they possessed fortunes, but now that most of them are penniless, it is an evil of vast magnitude. We know that in many cases these young men would be glad to get work, of a certain kind. They would practice law or medicine, or engage in mercantile pursuits, or manage a farm, or get up and deliver a lecture; but finding no opening in these occupations, they are lying on their oars and doing nothing. The young men of the South must come down to manual labor—they must come to the conclusion that honest work with the hands is better than no work at all."

THE Marine Hospital, in Cincinnati, which cost the Government $200,000, and was erected some ten or twelve years since, was sold yesterday at public sale for $70,590.

A new post office has been established at West Richfield, Summit county, Ohio. Emerson S. Oviatt is Postmaster.

A SHEEP STEALER ARRESTED.—About five o'clock on Saturday morning, a man who gave his name as David Daily, arrived in Allegheny with nineteen head of sheep. He stopped at Mr. James Caison's tavern, at the corner of Ohio and Beaver streets, and in answer to a question stated that he had driven the sheep from his residence in Lawrence county. From information subsequently received it appears that the sheep had been stolen from a farmer in Ross township, in the vicinity of Perrysville. Daily was arrested and locked up. After being in the watch-house, for a short time, the prisoner exhibited signs of insanity, but the police are of the opinion that he is a sharper. He will have a hearing to-day.

CATARRH.—The origin of Catarrh is in most cases A neglected Cold, which can be relieved by the use of "Brown's Bronchial Troches, by soothing the irritated and inflamed membrane extending from the nose to the throat. For Coughs and Throat Diseases the Troches are of great service. jy16-MWARDAW

NEW YORK, July 15.—The steamer America, from Southampton on the 4th, has arrived. The City of Paris and Hibernian arrived out on the 2d. The Miantonomah, after visiting Cherbourg, proceeds to London.

Lord Derby had an interview with the Queen, and submitted the following names for a new Ministry, which were approved: Derby, Premier, and leader in Lords; Disraeli, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and leader in the Commons; Stanley, Foreign Secretary; Walpole, Home Secretary; General Peel, War Secretary; Pasington, Admiralty; Northcote, Board of Trade; the Duke of Buckingham, President of Council.

A great reform meeting took place in London on Monday night, at which there were from thirty thousand to fifty thousand people present.

The Prince of Wales, while riding along Rotten Row on Monday, was run against by a runaway horse. The Prince's horse was thrown down, rolling over and over, but the Prince escaped, not much hurt.

The Great Eastern, with the cable on board, on her way to Valentia, passed Ventnor, on the Irish coast, at 2:45 P. M., on the 1st.

The race between Hamill and Kelley was to come off on the morning of the 4th.

The London Times' city article, of Tuesday evening, says: News of the rapid progress of the Prussian army has created an impression on change as to the early possibility of negotiations for peace.

The Prussians in Bohemia were making victorious progress. Gitschin was taken by storm. The Prussian loss was not inconsiderable. The Austrian loss was 4,000. It is announced that the Austrian total losses up to the present were 30,000 to 40,000. In consequence of the successful storming of Gitschin, the junction of the Prussian army under the Crown Prince and that under Prince Charles had been completely effected. Gitschin was much damaged. Austrian prisoners were continually arriving.

The Austrian, Hanover, Bamming and Martini regiments were wholly annihilated, and the 18th Jager battalion annihilated to the last man.

A Vienna telegram of the 1st states that the first corps and Saxon army were repulsed by the Prussians yesterday. In consequence the Austrian army fell back in the direction of Koniggratz.

A dispatch from Prague on the 30th, reports engagements on the 28th near Turnau and near Kalitz, resulting favorably to the Austrians. It gives the names of several places evacuated by the Prussians. The latter were said defeated with great loss, leaving their dead and wounded on the field. These engagements are probably the same as before reported. A dispatch from Berlin of the 1st, gives official dispatches from headquarters of the Crown Prince, saying the result of the three days' fighting in which the fifth Prussian corps has been engaged, cannot be too highly estimated. On the 27th it was opposed by the sixth Austrian corps, under General Ramming.

A letter was found addressed by the latter to General Benedek, in Josefstadt, which affords complete proof that the forces under his command were thoroughly exhausted. He therein requested General Benedek to send him two fresh brigades, in order that his troops might bivouac under their protection, and acknowledged that they would not be able to fight on the following day. The Fifth Prussian corps was therefore opposed on the 28th and 29th by the corps of the Archduke Leopold and General Festetics. The fighting on these two days extended over a larger area than that of the 27th. The Austrian corps under General Gablenz was completely broken up. Besides innumerable prisoners, twenty guns, five colors and two standards belonging to the corps of Gen. Gablenz fell into the hands of the Prussian troops.

A great number of workmen have left here for Dresden to erect intrenchments. The Austrians have evacuated Ostviccin.

The King of Prussia had arrived at Reichenburg. He was enthusiastically cheered on leaving Berlin.

A Berlin telegram of the 2d says: Notwithstanding the recent sanguinary fighting, the Prussian army is in excellent spirits. Another dispatch announces the arrival of the King at Gitschin, where he was received by Prince Frederick Charles. The streets everywhere showed an obstinate engagement. The enemy fled in disorder under cover of the night. The conduct of the Prussian troops was excellent. The corps of guards repeatedly repulsed the charges of the cavalry without forming squares. The headquarters of Prince Frederick Charles have been removed beyond Gitschin. The junction of the first and second army corps was completely effected. The number of the Austrian prisoners already exceeds five thousand.

An Italian regiment forming part of a contingent of Austria, to strengthen the 8th federal corps, had arrived at Frankfort.

A Gitschin telegram of the 3d states that the Vienna telegram of the 28th ult., announcing the loss of eighteen guns by the Prussians, is officially denied. The Prussians have not lost a single gun, but have captured twenty-four Austrian guns and eight flags.

On the evening of the 30th, a Prussian brigade surprised an Austrian brigade and captured a flag and two hundred and fifty prisoners.

The King left on the 3d for the out posts of the army under the Crown Prince. The Duke of Coburg arrived at Gitschin.

A Berlin official telegram of the 3d states that General Benedek found himself compelled, in consequence of the dissolution of the corps of General Gablenz, and the retreat of the Austrian and Saxon troops, to abandon operations he had begun near Gitschin, and concentrate his army at a more distant point.

A Gitschin telegram of the 2d states that 15,000 Austrian prisoners have been made by the Prussians since the 26th, and 20,000 Austrians have been killed and wounded. The Austrian army has retreated to a strong position between Josephstadt and Koniggratz, and, according to the statement of some of the captured officers, the soldiers are discouraged and the army in a state of dissolution. The desertion of Italian soldiers is increasing. The retreat of the Austrians was very precipitate.

The London Times of the 4th says, horrible as the carnage has been, it must be looked upon as a mere prelude to the pitched battle now unavoidable, in which a quarter of a million of men will probably be engaged on either side.

About four thousand men of a Federal army corps had occupied Wetzlar, levied a contribution on the inhabitants, and left in the direction of Grossen.

ITALY.—The Austrians claim the capture of 4,000 Italians at Custozza and fourteen guns.

HEADQUARTERS ITALIAN ARMY, June 30.—Nothing of importance has occurred. The enemy's patrols make frequent reconnoissances on the right bank of the Mincio. They are watched by our cavalry patrols. Four squadrons of Austrian hussars had advanced on Italian territory to the right of the Mincio, but they were encountered by the third squadron of the Fezzia Lancers, and compelled to retreat to Goito and Rivalta. The Austrians lost several killed.

HEADQUARTERS ITALIAN ARMY, TOWER MALAMBERT, July 1.—The Italian and Austrian cavalry continue to make reconnoissances. No brisk engagement has taken place since yesterday's encounter, in which the Fozzia lancers took forty Austrian prisoners. The troops are in excellent health and spirits. The division which suffered most in the battle of Custozza are in no way dispirited, and express their eagerness again to be placed at the front in the next battle.

King Victor Emmanuel has sent a telegram to the King of Prussia, congratulating him upon the recent success of the Prussian arms.

FLORENCE, July 3d.—An official report from the headquarters of the Italian army denies the accuracy of the third bulletin issued by the Austrian commander, in which the latter announced that the garrison of Mantua made a sortie and repulsed the Italians at Curraton. The engagement with the garrison of Mantua is declared to have been only a few volleys fired by the outposts on each side. The Austrians continue to make incursions from the Venetian frontier into Italian territory on the right bank of the Mincio. They have also burnt several bridges on the Adigo. To-day the Italian Facesta regiment of Lancers had an engagement with three hundred Austrian Hussars at Medel. The Hussars were dispersed with a loss of fifteen prisoners and twenty horses. One Austrian officer was taken prisoner and another killed.

The Morning Post thinks a Congress will shortly assemble, and that the French government will propose a general disarmament.

In the commercial circles of London, peace is regarded as virtually concluded.

The Prince Imperial was present at the fete in Paris in celebration of American independence.

The Episcopal body has voted two hundred thousand florins for the relief of the wounded. Three hundred Hungarian Magnoles will raise and equip a corps of cavalry. One thousand wounded soldiers had arrived at Pesth.

PARIS, July 3.—The Moniteur du Soir says letters speak of great animosity prevailing in Bohemia against the Prussians, especially at Mercangratz, Tuman and Nachad.

La France this evening says: We believe we are able to state that the Austrians crossed the Mincio in considerable force to-day.

ROME, July 2.—At the ceremonies held on the occasion of the feast of St. Peter, the Pope renewed his protest against the annexation to Italy of the Provinces formerly belonging to the States of the Church.

BUCHAREST, July 1.—Scenes of violence took place in this town yesterday, being directed against the Jews. The populace destroyed their Synagogue. Many Jews took refuge at the Austrian Consulate.

The Hansa, from New York, arrived at Cowes on the 4th.

LATEST VIA LIVERPOOL.

LIVERPOOL, July 5—Evening.—A great battle took place on the 3d near Sudowa, resulting in the Prussians obtaining a great and complete victory. The Prussians took 14,000 prisoners. There were great losses in killed and wounded, but no estimate is given of the number. The Austrians agreed to cede Venetia to the Emperor Napoleon, and accept his mediation. Napoleon communicated with the belligerents.

The Paris Moniteur of the 5th makes the following announcement: After having maintained the honor of his arms in Italy, the Emperor of Austria, concurring in the ideas expressed in the Emperor Napoleon's letter of June 11, to his Minister of Foreign Affairs, cedes Venetia to the French Emperor, and accepts his mediation for the conclusion of peace. The Emperor Napoleon hastened to respond to the summons, and immediately communicated with the Kings of Prussia and Italy in order to obtain an armistice.

The Austrian Field Marshal Von Gabzent arrived at the Prussian headquarters at Horitz, on the 4th, with a flag of truce. The battle of July 3d, near Sudowa, was a great affair. It resulted in the complete defeat of the Austrians. The Prussians were commanded by the King in person. They met the Austrians under Benedek, between Horitz and Koniggratz. The battle lasted twelve hours. Until 10 o'clock, A. M., the battle was favorable to the Austrians, but after that hour the advantages were with the Prussians. About two o'clock, P. M., after an obstinate defense, the Prussians carried by storm the strong position of the Austrians, after which the Austrians were driven out of other positions, and by seven P. M., the Austrians were in full retreat to Koniggratz, pursued by the Prussian cavalry. The Austrians were in a complete rout. The road was strewn with baggage which they threw away. The number of killed and wounded on both sides was great but owing to the extent of the battle field, it had not yet been ascertained. The Prussians claim to have captured up to the eve of the 4th, fourteen thousand unwounded prisoners, 116 cannon and several flags. Three Austrian Archdukes are reported wounded. Prince Lichtenstein and Prince Undischnagas were taken prisoners.

General Vestilies, commander of an Austrian corps, lost a leg. General Coutheme was shot in the head, and Colonel Bender and another staff officer were killed.

The London Times, of the 3d, says the suddenness and the magnitude of the Austrian calamity are too overpowering for any man to speculate on their possible consequences on the destinies of the Austrian empire. With the exception of a few fortresses of no more avail in modern warfare to stay the triumphant progress of a victorious army than Joseistadt and Tanmugratz have proved to be, Benedek has nothing in his rear but open country; nothing between him and the capital but a vast, smooth battle field, where the cannon, the cavalry and the dread needle gun of the Prussians will have free play. The Austrians have done enough for the honor of their arms. They must now provide for the safety of the States and this can hardly be done by prolonged resistance. The most illustrious names in the Empire are among the dead and wounded.

The King of Prussia is in camp, and the Emperor of Austria is not very far from Benedek's headquarters.

The Daily News shows that the Prussians not only gained the battles but strategical advantages of the highest importance. They have concentrated, and eight corps of the army can pour down on the enemy with overwhelming fury, and have cut off communication between the Austrians and Federal army.

In the west the Prussian victories had a decided effect on financial and commercial affairs. There was a general improvement in consols and other securities at the London Stock Exchange. There was great buoyancy in the Liverpool cotton market, but a depression in breadstuffs.

In the Paris Bourse, Rentes advanced 1½ and Italian securities four per cent.

Garibaldi, on the 3d, attacked the Austrians at Montee Suello. The Austrians made a strong resistance. The volunteers finally fell back in good order. Garibaldi was slightly wounded in the thigh. The ammunition of the volunteers was affected by a heavy rain. The Bavarians attacked the Prussian outposts at Barefield. There were slight losses on both sides.

Intense enthusiasm prevailed at Berlin, where the Prussian victories were announced with salves of artillery.

GREAT BRITAIN.—For the first time the anniversary of American independence, was celebrated in the Fourth of July, conjointly, by British and American war vessels, in an English port. All Her Majesty's ships at Portsmouth, hoisted the American flag at the main royal mast, and at noon, all ships carrying over ten guns, fired a national salute of twenty-one guns.

There was a grand fete given the Americans in Paris, in celebration of the Fourth of July, at which the Prince Imperial was present.

In Liverpool the Americans had a banquet at the Washington Hotel.

CITY MATTERS.

The Public Park Question.

To the Editor of the Pittsburgh Commercial:

In your issue of the 12th "Rural" takes quite an interest in the oft mooted question of a Public Park, and while I am willing to admit that we are far behind the prominent cities of the Union in this respect, yet I do not agree with Mr. "Rural" that "Ruch's farm," near Oakland, is the desirable spot for the proposed and much wished for Park. There are several reasons why the "Ruch estate" would not answer the purpose. Among others, I may state that for a Park the most desirable feature is level ground capable of being beautified with walks and green spots, where the poor can enjoy a quiet hour. Now, Ruch's farm may do very well for "drives," if one has a good strong horse, and no objection to "up hill and down," and many very beautiful miniature Niagara falls may be constructed, but those who will most enjoy the Park will object very much to climbing like chamois over the many rough and ragged rocks that abound in the place spoken of. To improve Ruch's farm, thousands of dollars would be required to place it in even passable condition, and then it would not satisfy the wishes of the people.

If we are to have a Park let us set about it at once, and do it promptly and right. There are two places that I think very suitable, viz: All that property bounded by Hay street and Redoubt alley—the Monongahela and Allegheny rivers. This would give us a park triangular in shape—about two thousand feet front on the Monongahela, and about the same on the Allegheny river, thus securing a splendid river view, with every facility for improvement, in fountains, &c., &c. To do this would undoubtedly cost a great deal of money, but it is, in my opinion, the most desirable place, being easy of access by foot to all. If the public desire to go out of the city, the magnificent grove, situated a short distance from Lawrenceville, on the Greensburg turnpike, and nearly opposite the upper entrance to the Allegheny Cemetery, owned, I believe, by Dr. Gross, would, undoubtedly, be a splendid location for a Park. It is beautifully located, and especially adapted for walks, drives, and all other improvements. It could be purchased at a moderate price, and could be reached easily by the Pennsylvania Central Railroad, or Citizens' Passenger Cars. It is a much finer location than "Ruch's farm," could be purchased cheaper, and improved at one-fourth of the cost, and besides being easier of access. Will not our "city fathers" move in this matter? Mr. Mayor, call a public meeting, and let us "pow-wow" over the matter.

Yours, CITY.

A Runaway Horse—Two Men Injured.

About seven o'clock, last evening, a horse attached to a buggy, containing two young men named William Deakers and John Martin, became frightened at the corner of Wood and Sixth streets, and ran away. Mr. Deakers, who was driving, dropped the reins, and in attempting to regain possession of them, was thrown from the buggy upon the curbstone, and severely injured on the head and side. The horse ran down Wood street and turned up Fifth, Mr. Martin still retaining his seat in the buggy. Upon arriving near the brick piles, Mr. Martin jumped from the buggy and struck his head against a stone, cutting a gash in his face. He was taken into Mr. Baker's tobacco store, and in a short time he had recovered sufficiently to walk home. The horse was stopped near the Cathedral, and strange to say neither he nor the buggy was injured.

PIGEON SHOOTING MATCH.—A shooting match between Messrs. Kerr and Lovett took place on Saturday, for a purse of two hundred dollars, resulting in a tie, as will be seen by the following:

Kerr......1 1 1 1 1 1 1 0 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 0 1 1 0 0 0—16
Lovett....1 0 1 0 0 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 0 1 1 1 1 0—16

It is said that the parties will shoot again at double birds.

BEFORE ALDERMAN TAYLOR.—Wm. J. Friday lodged an information on Saturday before Alderman J. M. Taylor, of the Fifth ward, charging Mary A. Johnson with keeping a disorderly house. She was arrested and committed to jail for a hearing. Asa Hollister was arrested on a charge of assault, preferred by officer James A. Bell. He was committed to jail, in default of five hundred dollars bail, for trial at Court.

Criminal Court.

This Court assembled on Saturday morning, Judges Sterrett, Mellon and Brown on the bench, when the following business was transacted:

District Attorney Duff called the attention of the Court to the fact that the provision of the act of Assembly, which went into effect on the first of April last, by which the Mayors and Aldermen of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, and Justices of the Peace, were required to return all information on the first of each month, had as a general thing not been complied with. He had reason to believe that some of the magistrates had such informations and recognizances in their possession, and therefore asked the Court to grant a rule against the following magistrates to show cause why such return had not been made: Mayors McCarthy and Morrison, Aldermen Humbert, Nicholson, Strain, Lynch, Donaldson, Taylor, and Johns, of this city, Alderman Robinson, of Allegheny, and Justice Salisbury, of Birmingham. The rules asked for were granted, and made returnable on the first Monday of August next.

The counsel for John Cash now in jail on a charge of attempting to outrage Amelia Kennewig, made an application that a nolle pros. be entered on the grounds that the parties are married, and there could be no prosecution. The motion was resisted by the District Attorney, and the application was refused by Court. The counsel for Michael Hall, in jail for a similar offense, then made a motion that the bail of the prisoner be reduced to one thousand dollars. The Court refused to entertain the motion, and stated that two thousand dollars bail would be required in each case.

The Court passed the following sentences:

George Wygold, convicted of felonious assault and battery, by cutting Joseph Miller at a pic nic on Troy Hill some months since, was first brought up. The counsel for the defendant made an application for a new trial, but it was overruled by the Court. The Court stated that owing to the previous good character established by the defendant, and the fact that from the evidence produced on the trial, it appeared that he had gone into the riot for the purpose of aiding the officers in quelling it, and not with the design of using his knife, a light punishment would be inflicted. He was then sentenced to pay a fine of one hundred dollars, the costs of prosecution, and to undergo an imprisonment of four months in the county jail.

Henry Tattem, one of the parties convicted for participating in the riot at Farmolz's tavern, on the Greensburg turnpike, in Lawrenceville, was next called up. He was sentenced by the Court to pay a fine of one hundred dollars, the costs of prosecution, and undergo three months, imprisonment in the county jail.

John P. Whacker, who pleaded guilty to selling liquor without license, was next brought up for sentence. Whacker is a partner in the firm of Steurnagle & Whacker, brewers in the Third ward, Allegheny. Both members of the firm were convicted of selling liquor on repeated indictments. Before the passing of sentence, Whacker requested that the sentence of his partner be suspended for some time, stating that they had now on hands a considerable quantity of beer in process of manufacture, and that it was necessary that one of the parties be present and attend to it. He hoped the Court would defer the sentence of Sternagle, until his (Whacker's) term had expired. The Court stated that they would not enter into any such contract, and sentenced Whacker to pay a fine of one hundred dollars, and undergo fifteen days imprisonment in jail.

Jacob Anschutz, convicted of larceny as bailee was the next prisoner called up for sentence. The defendant having been in jail for several months, the Court imposed a light sentence—thirty days' imprisonment.

Michael Fanner, convicted of stealing a pair of boots from Douglas's hat store, on Wood street, was then sentenced. The defendant has been in jail since the 16th of January last (six months), and owing to this fact, he was sentenced to pay a fine of ten dollars, and undergo an imprisonment in jail of thirty days.

Martha Lutz, convicted on three indictments for larceny, was the last prisoner sentenced. The property stolen by the defendant consisted of wearing apparel, belonging to three different parties, but was all taken at one time. The Court sentenced her on but two charges, giving her three months' imprisonment in jail.

Henry Reiduck, colored, who has been incarcerated in jail for some months, on a charge of larceny, was released by Court, in consequence of the failure of the prosecution to appear before the Grand Jury, which had ignored the bill.

John Boyle, who was shot on the Monongahela bridge, some time since, by John Mitchell, whom he had assaulted, was brought into Court with a view of securing his release. Boyle has been in jail for some time in consequence of his failure to keep the peace. He remarked that he intended going home to Allentown, Pa., and with this assurance he was released by the Court on his own recognizance.

Court then adjourned.

Murderous Assault by a Prisoner on His Keeper.

James Mackerel, a prisoner confined in the Western Penitentiary, made a desperate assault, on Friday, upon Mr. Hugh Walkinshaw, one of the keepers of the institution. It appears that the prisoners are expected to give their cells a thorough cleansing every Friday, and Mr. Walkinshaw visited Mackerel for the purpose of seeing whether he had attended to his duties. After entering the cell, Mr. Walkinshaw stooped down to examine a box filled with scraps of leather, when Mackerel seized a shoe knife and endeavored to cut his throat. Mr. Walkinshaw, noticing the movement, arose suddenly, when the knife entered his cheek, inflicting a severe wound. Mackerel then cut him several times on the head and endeavored to stab him in the bowels, but Mr. W. wore a heavy leather apron which protected him, and probably saved his life. Several of the keepers hearing the disturbance entered the cell and secured the prisoner. Mr. Walkingshaw's wounds are severe, but not dangerous.

Mackerel is a native of this city, and bears the reputation of being a hardened and reckless man. Although only twenty-six years of age, he is serving his second term in the Penitentiary. About four years ago he was convicted on a charge of highway robbery, and sentenced to an imprisonment of eight years. A few days since Mackerel sent a message to Warden Campbell by Mr. Walkinshaw, and supposing that he had not delivered it concluded to have revenge. Mr. Walkinshaw is about sixty years of age, but is still a muscular man. The assault was unprovoked, and Mackerel will undoubtedly receive the punishment his crime so richly merits.

THE HOUSEMAN MURDER—THAIRWELL SENTENCED.—On Friday morning, Richard Thairwell, who was convicted in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Fayette county on Tuesday last, on his own confession, of the murder of James Houseman, was taken into Court, when Judge Gilmore proceeded to pass upon him the dread sentence of death. While the Judge was pronouncing the sentence the prisoner wept profusely, and gave evidence that he realized the fearful retribution that awaited him. Thairwell has been greatly depressed since the trial, and said that if he had known Mrs. Houseman would have been acquitted he would have testified against her.

PLEASURE EXCURSION TO LAKE SUPERIOR.—The elegant steamer "Lac la Belle," Captain Spalding, will make her second pleasure trip this season to Lake Superior on to-morrow, leaving Cleveland at nine o'clock, P. M. Any excursion to Lake Superior is among the most desirable things during the Summer, the route for interest and pleasure being unsurpassed on the Continent. A number of prominent Pittsburghers will take passage on the "Lac la Belle" to-morrow. The "Northern Light" will leave Cleveland on the 24th and the "Lac la Belle" will make her third trip on the 31st inst. An excursion to Lake Superior costs much less than two weeks' stay at a watering place, and is productive of more lasting pleasure.

ANOTHER STRIKE ON ISLAND RUN.—The Ajax Oil company struck an excellent well of oil on Saturday morning, at a depth of about six hundred and thirty feet. This promises to be the "big well" in that region. The company is officered as follows: Wm. L. Bingham, President; M. B. Campbell, Secretary; Wm. J. Snodgrass, Treasurer, and D. F. Connell, Superintendant. The parties are all of New Cumberland, West Va.

FULLY COMMITTED.—Charles E. Stein, the murderer of David Roberts, waived a hearing before Mayor McCarthy, on Saturday, and was committed to jail for trial.

LIGHTNING RODS.—The public have long felt the need of a more efficient lightning rod than the iron one, in any of its various forms or coverings. Many buildings have been struck by lightning, although protected by the iron rod, as witness the accident to Col. Leed's residence, at Sheridan, Pa., a few weeks ago; the High School building at Keokuk; the residence of Mr. Whitmore, at Valparaiso; the barn of Mr. White, in Washington county, &c., &c., and various causes have been assigned for their inefficiency; lack of continuity, imperfect ground connections, deterioration by oxydation or poor insulation, have each in turn been urged as the cause. Such imperfections may have been sufficient in many cases to produce disaster, but a more frequent cause is to be found in the low conducting power of the metal used. During ten years extensive experience with "Munson's Copper Tubular Lightning Rod, with Spiral Flanges," not a single building has been injured upon which it was erected. While silver has a conducting power of say 100, copper reaches 92, and iron has only 12. Munson's rod has been erected this Spring and Summer on hundreds of buildings in this city and vicinity, and has been highly endorsed by all who have examined it, among whom we may name Rev. I. C. Pershing, President of Pittsburgh Female College; Philotus Dean, Prof. National Sciences of Pittsburgh High School, and Geo. Woods, L. L. D., President of Western University of Pennsylvania. It has received the first premium at all State Fairs and Institutes wherever exhibited; been commended by the press everywhere, and by over 500 Professors in Colleges, and other scientific men, as the best rod ever invented, and possessing all the requisites for the perfect protection of buildings from disaster by lightning. The price of this rod is 30 cents per foot, and three dollars for points. This includes all charges of attaching them to buildings. Orders may be sent through the mail, or left at our office.

THE NEW CABINET CAST.

Deputy Postmaster RANDALL has succeeded Governor DENNISON in the Cabinet, as Chief of that Department. He probably has the requisite ability,—the only inquiry being as to the political significance of the selection. Mr. RANDALL was a Whig and an original Republican, an anti-slavery man and an earnest supporter of the war,—and last, though perhaps not least, the head and front of the JOHNSON Club in Washington, composed exclusively of LINCOLN and JOHNSON supporters. Here, then, the Democrats have gained little on which to congratulate themselves, more especially when it is understood that Mr. RANDALL set out with the idea of running the Philadelphia Convention so as to smash the Democratic party and build up a new one.

That Attorney General SPEED, Secretary HARLAN, and Secretary STANTON will follow Governor DENNISON out of the Cabinet, seems to be generally taken for granted,—that they did not promptly resign with him, and that they have held on so long, may perhaps be regarded as somewhat suggestive. That they cannot consistently remain much longer, unless affairs are really in a different shape from what Governor DENNISON regarded them, or are to take a new and satisfactory turn, is very evident. Leaving that suggestive view of the case—prompted perhaps by certain Senatorial confirmations and the action of the Republican Congressional caucus—we proceed to the inquiry, how will the President fill up his Cabinet? The Democrats will very naturally expect, if there is to be a new make-up, to see it inaugurated by the President in bringing one or more Democrats into the Cabinet. They are no doubt disposed to look upon this as the President's opportunity—more especially than ours. How will it be improved, is the interesting question? Will the President foreshadow the future by dividing with the Democrats—will he prefigure the Philadelphia Convention by making up his Cabinet on fusion principles, or will he continue to "work out the problem inside the Union Party," as he has so frequently expressed himself? Surely that would not satisfy the Democrats, nor anybody else but those vagrant and fugitive Republicans who get the offices. The President has come to where the roads diverge in perplexing directions—one to the barren path where apostate Republicans only will stray; the other the Democratic turnpike beset with viperous Copperheads. Which will he take? Or, perceiving the difficulties and realizing, even at this late hour, the worse than folly of taking either, will he return to pursue the broad and open way wherein the grand army of Union Republicans are proudly marching, with the Constitutional Amendment emblazoned on all their banners? If the latter, he would have no occasion to seek for successors to Mr. STANTON, Mr. HARLAN and SPEED. The casts of the Cabinet will determine the question.

POSITION OF MR. RAYMOND AND THE TIMES.

Mr. RAYMOND complains that his action in the caucus of Republican members has been misrepresented. On the resolution declaring that no Republican Senator or member would support the Philadelphia Convention, he did not vote. He says, furthermore, "he retracted nothing that he had said or written, and made no promises for the future for himself or for the Times, either in regard to the Convention or any other subject." The Times of Saturday repeats its views of the forthcoming Convention in Philadelphia, thus:

"In regard to the relation borne by the Times to the movement for a Convention, no explanation, qualification, or retraction is necessary. We have steadily maintained that, to accomplish any good, the movement must be confined to moderate, conservative and loyal men of both sections and of either party. As a corollary, we have contended that by the terms of the call the extreme sectionalizing Republicans are excluded; and that if, under any pretense of conservatism, the Copperhead element of the Democracy acquires influence in the Convention, its proceedings will result in failure, so far as the object we have had in view is concerned."

It seems to us that Mr. RAYMOND might have made shorter work of it, by declaring at once, that the Philadelphia Convention, having already been turned against the policy which in Congress had his approbation and vote—been perverted to the uses of the Democrats and Copperheads generally, for objects they failed to achieve on the Chicago Surrender and Peace Platform, and the original idea of National Unionism having thereby been sacrificed, so that no man not willing to lose himself hereafter in the anti-war Rebel-sympathizing Democracy, could think of going into the Convention, he should have nothing to do with it, but should adhere to and support with all his might the only true Union party, and its policy, as laid down in the Constitutional Amendment.

In resigning his place in the Cabinet, Governor DENNISON has made this emphatic declaration, and we do not question that it will be followed by a similar one from the other members of the Cabinet, who, with him, have retained their places in the hope that however Union-Republicans might differ in some particulars, they would all be found together supporting the wise and moderate policy of the amendment. In the House of Representatives Mr. RAYMOND himself gave his vote for the amendment. Can he give a satisfactory reason for not standing by it?

EASTERN OHIO.

State lines are suitable enough for defining the boundaries of territory and for dividing civil jurisdictions, but they cannot limit and confine sympathies nor prevent the interchanges of courtesy and business between the people contiguous to those lines. They will visit each other, they will trade with each other, they will go to church and to market together; riding along the dividing line they will bow as politely to the neighbor on the left hand in one State as to the one on the right hand in the other State; and when they ride across the line, in a carriage or railway car, they feel no jolt to remind them that they have passed from one State to another.

Eastern Ohio we therefore feel to be, as much our neighbor as Western Pennsylvania. It is a pleasant country to travel through, and from the appearance of thrift and plenty that everywhere prevails, it must be a pleasant one to reside in. The surface of the country in the northern part is, like the Lake region of our own State, level, and the roads, crossing each other at right angles, are strait; in the southern part the face of the country is more broken and rough, like Western Pennsylvania. Agricultural interests and employments chiefly engage the attention of the people.

Cities, towns and villages, however, are numerous and beautiful; and on visiting them, one cannot but be struck with the appearance of activity and life they present. It cannot be denied that Ohio quite excels us in her towns and villages. There is a neatness in the buildings, in the door yards, in the streets, that is characteristic, indicating cultivated taste and a relish for beauty and comfort. This is seen in such active business places as Wooster, Ravenna, Youngstown, Salem, Massillon, Akron, and scores of smaller places, as well as in the larger cities on the Lake and the Ohio. The churches, the school houses, the public buildings and the private residences, all indicate both the prevalence of the same taste and the possession of means for its indulgence.

The railroad facilities of Eastern Ohio are extensive. It is literally a net-work of iron roads. Travel in what direction one may, he is crossing railroads frequently. They run South and North, South East and North East and in some cases East and West. But the most extraordinary thing is, that so large a city as Pittsburgh, much larger than any except one in the whole State of Ohio, with its immense manufactures and its equal capability for mercantile trade, has no connection with this grand system of Ohio railroads lying over the richest kind of country, except two lines, and, until very lately, only by one.

What can be the reason of this? Is it for want of business enterprise in Pittsburgh? Is it for want of an intelligent, expansive, generous public spirit? Why, it would be as convenient for half the people of Ohio to come to Pittsburgh for their principal trading, as to go to Cleveland, if the same facilities and inducements were offered. No doubt many do this already, but the number might be indefinitely increased, were proportionate efforts made to draw the business in this direction. The large and increasing circulation of the COMMERCIAL in Eastern Ohio assures us of the interest of the people in this direction. We wish we could arouse our citizens to such efforts as would turn it to their mutual advantage. We shall do our part, by the circulation of intelligence, by reliable market reports, by the cultivation of friendly sympathies, to draw the attention of Eastern Ohio to this great city of manufactures and trade. If all our citizens engaged in business will do theirs, the results would amply repay them, while at the same time promoting the profit and convenience of the people of Eastern Ohio.

THE PRESIDENT'S OPPORTUNITY.

No man ever so deliberately threw away an opportunity as President JOHNSON, in failing to come promptly to the support of the Constitutional Amendment. When Congress receded from the policy originally brought forward by Mr. STEVENS and settled down on a plan of reconstruction which Mr. STEVENS did not like, but which met the hearty approval of all but a few extreme men in the Union party, and was by them acquiesced in as a matter of necessity, then was the President's opportunity. It would have been an easy and perfectly consistent thing for him to say: "The extreme men with whom I have "been contending having failed to carry "their points, it is my victory,—the meas-"ure, which for its moderation does not "suit them, ought to be accepted by me,— "there being nothing in the Con-"gressional plan, agreed upon after a six "month's trial inconsistent with the main "features of my own, it becomes my plan. "I cordially meet Congress on the middle "ground, where the Republican Union "party have already rallied. Henceforth "we are one, in support of one plan and of "principles on which we can all agree."

This is what President JOHNSON should have said. It was the natural and honest thing for him to say. It was what the true men who had retained their places in the Cabinet, but not without some apprehension, expected he would say. For ourselves, we will say, it was what we expected of him, as thousands of others did.

But the President said nothing of the kind. He kept up the war on Congress, and pushed ahead upon new ground, leading directly to the Copperhead camp. In doing so he dishonored all his professions, recklessly threw away such an opportunity as no man ever had, and chose a course that not only impeached his honesty but utterly confounded all previous ideas as to his sagacity. On the surface there are no motives or influences that explain his action.

We must go beneath the surface for the explanation,—nor, we apprehend, will we have to go far. When we strike the strata of the COWANS and the DOOLITTLES, who, unfortunately, early possessed the President's ear, we need go no further. These gentlemen, by their situation at home, were forced to do a desperate thing, and they determined if possible to drag the President along with them. In this they have been too successful. These gentlemen had become so utterly bankrupted at home that they must make some shift or other. Nothing they could do would render their case worse,—possibly it might be improved. They had nothing to lose, but everything to gain. Could they drag the President along with them, by a bare possibility they might retrieve themselves,—the very worst that could happen was he would be as badly off as themselves. They made him believe that the people were with them, and that the popular applause would be for him, if he but pursued the way they pointed out. Doubtless Mr. SEWARD joined in the work of deepening the delusion,—and others there were who, already bankrupted, reckless and desperate, were ready to assist in the damaging business. Like the false friends who played on the President's weakness on the fourth of March, these men have dragged and lured him into steps most fatal. As the President was the victim of the humiliating scenes of that day, so will he, from the influences of the false friends that now surround him, be the greatest sufferer.

It is to be feared that the President has ventured too far to think of returning. Unless he has entirely lost his sagacity, he must perceive that there is no safety, no honor, but in a return to the Union fold. The Union men of the land who gave to Mr. JOHNSON their confidence, will not follow him. It is not in the power of all the COWANS and DOOLITTLES in the land to make them follow him. They are without political character; they have no influence, they have nothing that he does not confer upon them. But all the power and patronage of the Presidential office will not suffice to avert the certain destruction that lies in his path, if he persists in it. The men who were true and firm throughout the struggle that "ridged the land with untimely graves," now that they know that the way leads to the Copperhead camp, will go not a single step with him, and none know it so well as Mr. COWAN and Mr. DOOLITTLE. While there is no future for them, it may not be too late for the President to retrieve his lost opportunity.

THE KEY NOTE.

The eloquent and able letter of Governor CURTIN, to the Chairman of the Union State Committee, published in the COMMERCIAL Saturday morning, is the key note of the opening campaign in Pennsylvania. Responding to it, the Union men of the State will rally promptly to the support of the policy embraced in the Constitutional Amendment—the future test of faith. It is a document of peculiar force, issued at the crisis-moment, when something was needed to rally the party. The doctrines proclaimed are broad and practical, such as the entire party will cheerfully support. The party in the State are indebted to the Governor for this clear and animating bugle note, the first of the campaign; and we doubt not they will, as in former times, when rallying at his call, achieve a decisive victory.

THE other day we expressed the hope that during his Western tour, the President would mingle with the people and learn from them their wishes and views touching his course and on the questions of the day generally. It is said that Governor DENNISON was led, by a recent visit to Ohio, to throw up his place in the Cabinet in deference to unmistakable public sentiment. As a patriot and statesman, he could not longer seem to indorse the course of the President, more especially after it became manifest that it was leading directly into the camp of the old enemy. Although the President and Governor DENNISON differ in material particulars, we should not be without some hope of a beneficial influence being exerted on the head of the administration, were he to do as his retiring Cabinet Minister did, and go among the people. It may not be too late to save himself from the utter ruin to which he is madly rushing. Without the people support him, he will surely fail; and if he will not take the pains to find out what is the popular will, and conform his action to it, he is lost beyond redemption. Will he do it?

MR. FORNEY, writing to his Press, says:

"Andrew Johnson is despotically using all the powers and patronage of the American people to proscribe and punish freedom and enfranchise and elevate treason. When the test was put to the Postmaster General, he gracefully but promptly declined it. Little doubt is entertained that it will be rejected by Mr. Speed, the Attorney General, and Mr. Harlan, the Secretary of the Interior."

Why was Secretary STANTON omitted from the list of Cabinet officers who will "reject" the President's "test?"

ITALIAN PATRIOTISM.—The Romagna Gazette mentions a striking fact in proof of the patriotic zeal of the Italians. One Giuseppe Basini, a baker of Forli, has at this moment nine sons under the flags of the war of independence.

All very good in the Italian; but many an American in our war not only sent his nine sons, but went himself.

IN the House of Representatives, the Republicans who voted against the Tariff Bill were Messrs. ALLISON, KASSON, and WILSON, of Iowa; ANDERSON, BENJAMIN, and VAN HORN, of Missouri; BAKER, BROMWELL, COOK, FARNSWORTH, HARDING, INGERSOLL, MOULTON, WASHBURN, and WENTWORTH, of Illinois; COBB, of Wisconsin; DEFREES, FARQUHAR, JULIAN, ORTH, and WASHBURNE, of Indiana; DONNELLY and WINDHAM, of Minnesota, EGGLESTON, of Ohio; PHELPS and J. L. THOMAS, of Maryland, and ROUSSEAU, of Kentucky.

The Democrats who voted for it were ANCONA, BOYER, COFFROTH, DAWSON, JOHNSON, RANDALL, and STROUSE, all Pennsylvanians. In the Senate, it was postponed on the motion of Mr. GRIMES, of Iowa, advocated by Mr. FESSENDEN, of Maine, and voted for by a majority of Republicans.

WHO WILL BE THERE.—From Virginia such men as R. M. T. HUNTER, HENRY A. WISE, Extra BILLY SMITH, and the like of them, will be sent to the Philadelphia "National Union Convention." From Georgia, ALEXANDER H. STEVENS, HOWELL COBB, and the like of them; and so on from all the Southern States. In Ohio, VALLANDIGHAM, PENDLETON & Co. are moving either to go themselves or to send men to their liking. A pretty "National Union" Convention it would be that would admit one of these men, or that they would think of attending.

A COTEMPORARY speaks of the "growing importance" of the Philadelphia Convention as proceeding "from the abandonment, by many Democratic leaders, of their party to go into it." We would like to know what "Democratic leaders" propose to abandon their party. The Democratic Senators and members of Congress, in their indorsement, distinctly declared that it was not proposed to either abandon or in any manner abate the Democratic organization, but to strengthen the party and give effect to its principles.

THE harvesting of the crops in the west has caused the bottom of the grain market in Chicago to drop out. Millers are grinding new wheat, and the delusion of a scarcity has completely vanished. Speculators have suffered severely, as they deserved to. Another combination of speculators is not likely to be formed very soon.

Colored Persons and Baltimore Street Cars.

In Baltimore, on Wednesday last, a young and well dressed bright mulatto woman entered one of the horse cars on the Baltimore and Towsontown railway. On account of her light complexion, a young man mistaking her color, gallantly arose and politely offered her his seat, which she no less politely accepted. By and by her true "color" was discovered, and a number of passengers inquired "if colored people were allowed to ride inside the cars of that road?" This soon reached the ears of the conductor, who had not as yet discovered the few drops of negro blood that coursed through her veins. He stepped up to her on making the discovery and requested her to take a position on the front platform. This order astonished the young lady so completely, that the conductor, thinking he had made a mistake, was about to offer an apology, thinking from her near proximity to white, that she was no "colored person." Some of the passengers enlightened him as to her "true color," and he again requested her to get forward. This she would not do, but left the car, first taking the number. This will no doubt be another suit under the Civil Rights Bill. Several conductors are now under bail for appearance at court for similar offenses.

A REVISORY TARIFF BILL.—The bill to protect the revenues, reported from the Ways and Means Committee, contains thirteen sections, and comprises the administration parts of the Tariff Bill, postponed till next session. It provides that the duty on cotton shall be three cents a pound; on cigars, cheroots, and cigarettes of all kinds, two dollars and a half per thousand, and fifty per cent advalorem, and on all compounds or preparations of which distilled spirits shall be manufactured, there shall be levied a duty not less than that imposed upon distilled spirits. These are the only duties mentioned in the bill. Machinery for the manufacture of sugar from beets is to be admitted free for one year. All laws allowing fishing bounties are repealed, but duties are remitted upon salt used for curing fish.

PERSONAL.

—The Right Rev. Dr. Fred. D. Huntingdon, of Boston, who has been chosen Bishop of the Maine Diocese, vice Bishop Burgess, deceased, was a candidate for the Bishopric of the Diocese of Pittsburgh, at its first annual convention, when Bishop Kerfoot was elected.

—Mr. Robert Bonner, of the New York Ledger, has returned an income for the past year of $165,609 65.

—Carozzi Zucchi, the prima donna, found the revenue officer wanted her income tax on the $40,000 in gold she received last year. The tuneful Tuscan suddenly discovered that she had business in Europe, but was overhauled on shipboard. She paid the tax finally in a fine melodramatic gust of passion.

—Prof. Henry J. Morton, Jr., of Philadelphia, has received the degree of "Doctor Philosophie" from Dickinson College.

—Milton was asked: "How is it that in some countries a king is allowed to take his place on the throne at fourteen years, but may not marry until he is eighteen?" "Because," said the poet, "it is easier to manage a government than a woman."

—The Manchester, England, Guardian, says: "An American negro actor, Mr. Morgan Smith, a native of Philadelphia, whose color has been a bar to his appearing in any theater of his own country, is about to appear on the English stage."

—A New York city correspondent says that the residence of A. T. Stewart, corner of Thirty-fourth street and Fifth Avenue, is nearly ready to move into. It eclipses any private building on the continent, so it is said, and will cost without any furniture, $2,500,000.

—Leland, of Saratoga, and Cake, of Cape May, two great landlords, plume themselves upon the coolness of the temperature of their respective inns. The following passed between them by telegraph one warm day last week:

"Cake's Compliments to Leland. Thermometor 82°, 12 o'clock.

To this the laconic rejoinder was immediately forwarded:

"Leland's compliments to Cake, Thermometor 70° at 3 P. M. Overcoats thought of.

—Edwin Forrest is going to venture a few performances in England, after he closes his present engagement in California. The undertaking is a little risky, in view of the Macready riots in New York some years ago, when the favorite English tragedian fled for his life from before the assault of Forrest's friends.

—The Maine Episcopal Convention has elected Rev. F. D. Huntington, D. D., of Boston, as Bishop of the Diocese.

—General Napier has made a speech to the unhappy "Queen's Own," touching the affair at Ridgeway. He attributes the matter entirely to an alleged blunder of the bugler, and said: "Had it not been for the unfortunate mistake—had the advance been sounded instead of the retreat—you would, single-handed, have driven the Fenians before you that day."

—Gov. Sharkey has gone to Washington. Is he to go into the Cabinet?

—James Robinson, the great bare-back rider, was lost by drowning while out in a skiff sailing, near Boston, a few days since.

—Adah Isaacs Menken appeared at a Cincinnati theatre on Monday last, in the character of Mazeppa. The house was crowded, but, judging from the newspapers, there was great disappointment. The Cincinnatians did not see as much as they expected. The explanation is, the Menken was most decorously attired, showing, as the Gazette says, only a small part of the neck, and only one-half of the arms. It is intimated, however, that she will make amends before she concludes the engagement. It would not do for her to disappoint the Cincinnatians—they would never forgive her.

—Ex-President Fillmore is preparing an oration to be delivered at the Paris Exposition in 1867.

—The following anecdote is related of Gen. Sherman: In conversation with a number of officers at his headquarters in the fall of 1864, the Presidential election was touched upon, when some of the number addressed Gen. Sherman with:

"General, who will you vote for?"

"I shall vote for neither."

"Not vote? That is very strange."

"I'll tell you why," said the General. "I never voted but once, and then I disfranchised myself."

Such looks of wonder and incredulity as this produced may be imagined, but the General, paying no attention thereto, proceeded:

"I never voted for a President but once in my life, and that was for Buchanan, and I am since satisfied that any person who was d—d fool enough to do that, has not sense enough to exercise the elective franchise. I disfranchised myself, and consequently shall not vote."

—John J. McCook, the youngest of the patriotic McCook brothers—nine in number—who participated in the late war, has graduated with distinction at Kenyon College.

—Jay Cooke, the well known banker, returns an income, for 1865, of $625,000. His tax will be over $60,000. He resides in Chiltenham, Montgomery county, Pa.

—Hon. Geo. H. Pendleton delivered an oration on "Toleration," before the literary societies of Kenyon College, at the late commencement of that institution. It was a fine literary production, but was marred by political heresies.

MISSOURI HARVEST.—The harvest in Missouri is ended. The weather was unusually favorable for field work, being dry and rainless, and the labor of cutting and shocking was conducted under the most favorable circumstances. The wheat and oats in Central and Western Missouri is good, and rather more abundant than usual. In the northern part of the State there was a large proportion of cheat in the wheat fields, and the yield will be curtailed to this extent. All over the State the corn is as fine as it could be, and the general rain of last Saturday and Sunday has placed it out of all danger. There will be no scarcity of grain in Missouri and in Kansas the crop of wheat, oats and corn will be the finest ever gathered there.

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

The New York Times prints the following doubtful piece of intelligence: The Spanish Ministry have decided on advising her Majesty to show sympathy for Napoleon by sending a military force to occupy Rome and Mexico, should Nap be drawn into the conflict about to begin in Europe, and thereby be constrained to withdraw the French troops from both places.

Some streaks of good luck are mingled with the woe that befel Portland. About $60,000 worth of goods that had just been purchased by Woodman, True & Co., the largest dealers and heaviest losers in the dry goods business, had not arrived at their store at the time of the fire. Had these been received, they would have had on hand some $250,000, and their loss would have been much greater.

The semi-annual report of the Indiana State Auditor shows that only three of the old free banks continue in existence: The Paoli, the Salem at Salem, and the Salem at New Albany. Only $78,802 are now in circulation. One year ago there was $1,200,000.

A petition in favor of the abolition of capita punishment, and bearing 200,000 signatures, is before the French Senate. The discussion is, however, deferred until next year, in order to permit of an examination of the evidence received during an inquiry made by the English Parliament.

A National Bank in Hoboken, near New York, is implicated in a great fraud—that of issuing bogus certificates of deposit to the amount of several hundred thousand dollars. Some of the spurious certificates have been sent west. Arrests are being made.

The fortunate inventor of the explosive material used in the Prussian cartridge is kept under gaurd to prevent him from imparting the secret of its preparation, which is only known to him. He'll be glad when this cruel war is over.

Judge Wilkins of the District Court at St. Paul, has rendered an opinion adverse to taxing shareholders in National banks. Nearly a million of dollars in national bank stock is held in that city, and an effort was made by the County Treasurer to collect a State tax upon this sum, but has failed.

The Fourth National, Merchants', Citizens' and the Indiana Banks at Idiannapolis have been swindled in large amounts by discounting forged paper. The guilty party is a man named Trotter, a large cattle dealer, living in Hendricks county. He is supposed to have gone to Canada. The matter has been kept quiet in order to effect a compromise.

The Providence Journal says that "annexation to our Union would be very likely to follow the acquisition of independence by the people of Cuba." Why Cuba, more than Hayti, which has been independent during all the present century, or the Dominician Republic?

On the 11th of August next, the old folks of St. Louis propose to celebrate the centennial anniversary of the first grant of land covering the site of that city. It is proposed to form an Historical Society, and to secure an authentic history of the city from its first settlement.

From affidavits read in the case of Neville vs. The Russell File Company, New York, it appears that that Company paid $500,000 for the secret of restoring old and worn out files to new ones. This company has now a claim of over $27,000 for the files purchased of them by the United States for the purpose of spiking guns during the late rebellion.

The Chicago Review estimates the stock of barrel pork in the country at 150,000 barrels, against 262,000 barrels this time last year. Reducing the stock of barrel pork and cut meats to pounds, it estimates the supply in the West at this time at 26,000,000 pounds, against 50,700,000 last year.

The inch worms that usually hang above our heads in June and July, seem to have disappeared altogether. New York and other cities have in a great measure escaped their very annoying presence this year.

Murders are being multiplied in Cincinnati, Ohio. Two more occurred in that city last Friday night—one for the purpose of possessing a $1,000 U. S. 7-30 bond, and the other was a deliberate affair done to satisfy anger.

Illinois is famous for her fields of corn. The Carrollton Gazette mentions one in Upper Sandridge containing over two thousand acres of green and flourishing corn. All the various proprietors cultivate their own lines—the boundary being marked by a "turn row." To look over it, the field seems like a huge solid of living green.

George Peabody, the London banker, has expressed to President Brinckley, of the Memphis and Little Rock railroad, his willingness to put one hundred thousand dollars more in eight per cent. bonds of that road, provided nine hundred thousand dollars more are raised to complete it from Duvall's Bluff to Memphis. Mr. Peabody already has two hundred and sixty-four thousand dollars in this road.

Ripe peaces are plenty and cheap in Norfolk, Virginia.

At the burning of Portland by the British during the Revolutionary war, an infant of but a few weeks of age, was removed from a house on Fore street, and taken out of the town for safety. The house was burned down. During the recent Portland conflagration, that same infant was removed from a house erected on the spot where stood the one burned by Mowatt, from which ninety years ago she had been removed, and she was once more taken to a place of safety.

The disease called febris nigra, or black death, has lately appeared in Dublin. Black marks and blotches cover the body of the victim.

Four hundred thousand dollars are to be raised on coupon bonds, payable after ten years, for re-building Congress Hall, at Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

As a distinctive mark, the Prussians in the coming campaign are to wear a strip of white linen, with a red cross worked upon it, round their left arm.

Negotiations are going on for the purchase of the Ohio White Sulphur Springs, to be devoted to the National Soldiers' Home. The price demanded is reported to be $100,000.

We lately published the "good luck" of Mrs. Walker of Hartford, Conn., who fell heir to $30,000,000, left her by a relative in England. A similar case has come to light on Long Island, N. Y. A poor Teuton named Sealk, has been left $1,500,000 by a relative in Germany. The family is large, and is thus suddenly raised from poverty to affluence.

The Internal Revenue receipts for manufactures, for July, in Chicago, amounted to $283,116 25.

The steam railroad up the White mountains in New Hampshire, will test one hundred feet of up grade, with a rise of ten inches to three feet on this line, next week. The work is going forward rapidly.

Wm. Lloyd, Esq., manager of the Vera Cruz and Mexico (Imperial Company) Railroad, announced the suspension of all work on that gigantic work on the 21st inst. Since the 20th ult, not a spade has been turned on the line. The entire number of people thrown out of employment by the suspension is 11,500. The Imperial government is in arrears to the company to the amount of $1,400,000.

A recent experiment in New York with steam as a disinfectant, has proved a decided failure. One hundred and twenty degrees of heat was contained in the room used, and several eggs and oysters roasted by the process. The paint on the doors, windows, etc., was terribly blistered, and the ceiling and plaster walls injured so badly that they have since been taken down and new ones replaced.

A correspondent of the St. Paul Press writes from Minneapolis, under date of June 22d, as follows: "The Vermillion gold excitement has materially subsided, and some of the miners are back with rather doleful faces. The several stock companies are preparing to get up a great excitement over exaggerated rich veins and then make a desperate attempt to sell out to green ones down East. This is intended to be the last positive struggle to get out of one of the most foolish speculations of the day."

Chancellor Steel, of the Shelbyville Judicial Circuit, has declared that members of the Tennessee Legislature of 1861, also the Directors at that time of the Bank of Tennessee, and others, who failed to remove the assets of of the bank, are liable for those assets. As the deficiency amounts to about $1,000,000, this decision has created great consternation amongst leading rebels of 1861.

The vote in the Canadian Parliament declaring a want of confidence in the Ministry was a victory for the latter by a majority of 55. Hereafter things are expected to go along smoothly.

The Provost Marshal General.

The investigation by the House special committee into the case of Provost Marshal General Fry is making some strange developments; among others, that of bounty frauds exposed in New York, General Fry caused to be enlisted bounty jumpers, without any design that they should ever enter the military service, but with a positive design that they should not; and ordered them to be credited upon quotas, and returned and counted as so many recruits furnished to the army; that not only were these men to be credited as soldiers, but a firm of bounty brokers were, by an understanding with General Fry, to be allowed to sell these credits to any locality which would pay the highest price for them. Allen & Co. were given permission to put in one hundred and eighty men as jumpers, who were released, and the credits were sold to Jersey City by Allen & Co., with the knowledge of Colonel Ilges, and General Fry was at once informed of it. The papers were handed over to the Mayor of Jersey City, and he paid Allen & Co. for credits the sum of $126,000, which money, by General Fry's order, was all given to Allen & Co., it being customary to hold $500 per man until the men were sent to the front. Fifty-four thousand dollars were held by Colonel Ilges until Allen, by agreement with Fry, had, as he alleged, secured testimony to involve Conkling with the bounty frauds, when Fry gave him over the $54,000. His testimony about Conkling was only a myth.

AN IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.—Dr. Keith Johnson, of Edinburgh, has been making very important discoveries in Palestine. A correspondent of the Independent writes:

A party of friends there, for a preparatory purpose, obtained permission to make excavations. At Dr. J.'s suggestion, who believes that Tell Hum is the true site of ancient Capernaum, they dug into the mound, hoping to find the remains of the synagogue there, popularly called the "White Temple;" and, according to letters just received, were rewarded with complete success, finding the supposed building nearly or quite entire.

As this question of the location of Capernaum has been a battle ground of topographers, these tidings will awaken a fresh interest. Should they prove correct, that will be the only building in which the Savior actually was on earth which can be identified at this day. A perfectly accurate and complete scientific survey of Jerusalem has been made by Captain Wilson, giving all localities and measurements with the exactness of the British or the American coast survey. The same parties fixed the depression of the Dead Sea by survey across from the Mediterranean, and found it to correspond within a foot or two of that computed by Lt. Lynch.

SENATOR FESSENDEN.—The story that Senator Fessenden has lost most of his property by the fire in Portland is probably based on the fact that a house on India street, for many years the residence of Gen. Fessenden, and recently occupied by a brother of the Senator, was destroyed in the conflagration. We are not aware that the latter had any interest in the property, and suspect that he will feel more grateful to his friends for their sympathy with him in his supposed loss than to the author of the report. It was one of the incidents of the fire that this house, although at a distance of upwards of a mile from the place where the fire broke out, was swept away in a few hours, and so suddenly that hardly anything was saved from it. Even the body of a child, which lay dead in the house, was only saved from the flames by being taken from its coffin and hastily removed to the residence of Senator Fessenden.—Boston Advertiser.

AMERICAN SECURITIES ABROAD.—Extracts from the letter of a Bremen merchant of much experience, to a house in New York, strikingly illustrates the view taken in well-informed German quarters, of the probable appreciation of American bonds in Germany, in the event of a Continental war. He thinks that such a calamity would lead to a hoarding of United States gold bearing bonds, in preference to the old hoarding of gold in Louis d'Ors and ducats, which any regimental commander might press from the holders by forced loans or requisitions. A thousand ducats can be divided up to pay a regiment of 1,000 men, a $1,000 bond cannot be used in that way; and besides, it can be more easily secreted. He adds: "A great investment demand is now setting in from the peasantry and that class of people, especially since the war looks inevitable justly too, the safest thing to hold such in a crisis."

A NOVEL way of making change was recently discovered at Hong Kong, in China. An American having complained to a native judge of a tailor who had cheated him, the official sentenced the culprit to fifty blows with the bastinado—a sentence which was at once executed—and charged the American fifty cents costs. The judge not being able to change the dollar given him by the American, the latter humorously told him to take it out in the same manner. Accordingly the tailor was again tied down, and received fifty more blows, thus in his own person making up the required change.

A GOOD SUGGESTION.—The Chicago Republican makes this timely suggestion: The Chicago Convention of 1864 was never dissolved; it adjourned subject to the call of the President of that body; and it is not too late yet to summon that convention to meet at Philadelphia, and there formally unite the Democratic and the Johnson Conventions in one. Indeed, it would be a saving of much trouble, because the same delegates would answer for both conventions. The objects of the Johnson Convention are the very objects which the Democratic party have so much at heart.

THE FOREIGN NEWS.—American newspaper readers, accustomed to the false and garbled reports from the many fields of battle during the rebellion, are perhaps not much surprised at the confused tidings which come to us from the seat of the European war. A correspondent of an English journal, who has been for some time hunting for General Cialdini's Italian army, remarks that "it is almost impossible for a correspondent to give any really trustworthy account of events in a country where the press says nothing, the country people know nothing, and you are not allowed to go about and see anything for yourself."

THE English Lords of the bench decided at Westminster, about a month ago, that it was a principle of common law, that a counsellor, in questioning a witness, should address him in ordinary tones, and in language of respect, such as is employed by one gentleman in conversation with another; that such lawyer has no right to question the private business or moral character of a witness, any further than it is apparent they absolutely affect his reliability or touch the case in hand; and that witness is not bound to answer questions put to him in an insulting or annoying manner.

DUEL IN MEMPHIS.—A duel was fought on Friday, just over the Mississippi line, between a young lawyer named Taylor, belonging to one of the best families, and Captain Alonzo Greenlow, son of W. B. Greenlow, one of the weathiest and most highly respected citizens of Memphis. Taylor was charged with making offensive remarks about a lady cousin of Greenlow, and on his denying the charge, Greenlow slapped him in the face and called him a liar. Taylor forthwith challenged him. Greenlow accepted and killed him on the first fire. He leaves a wife and four children.

MASS COPPER.—The Cleveland Herald of Friday says: The Ironsides, on her last trip brought down the largest mass of copper that ever left the mines of Lake Superior. It is from the Cliff mines, and weighs 15,130 pounds, or a little over 7½ tons. It is estimated that in this mass there is fully ninety per cent. of pure copper. Besides this chunk the Ironsides brought down 306 tons of copper, some of the masses being nearly as large and pure as the above. This invoice of copper attracted considerable attention as it lay on Fettit & Holland's dock.

MEDICAL STATISTICS OF THE REBELLION.—Among the most important appropriations passed this session, is the one providing for the publication of the medical statistics of the rebellion. The part of the work which is already prepared is of the most absorbing interest to all soldiers, as well as to the general reader, while its value to the country, in case of any future war, cannot be over estimated. The opposition to the appropriation came from those who had no conception of the character of the work.

A LUCKY LOCAL EDITOR.—The Zanesville Courier, in noticing the contemplated visit to that city of Mr. Geo. Peabody, the distinguished London Banker, says: "Among the latest benevolent deeds of this world renowned humitarian, is the gift of $50,000 apiece to each of his four nephews in the East—among them Mr. Arthur Peabody, formerly local of the Courier.

WHAT a queer old fellow the Frenchman must have been who, for twenty years, loved a lady, and never missed passing his evenings at her house. She became a widow. "I wish you joy," cried his frind; "you may now marry the woman you have so long adored." "Alas!" said the poor Frenchman, profoundly dejected, "and if so, where shall I spend my evenings?"

WHEELER & WILSON'S
LOCK STITCH
SEWING MACHINES.

We would advise a man to forego a thresher and thresh wheat with a flail rather than to see a wife wear her health vigor and life away in the everlasting "stitch, stitch, stitch," when a Sewing Machine can be obtained. The WHEELER & WILSON is an invaluable aid in every household. We have had several different kinds on trial, and after six years' service the WHEELER & WILSON has taken the precedence as the best where all kinds of sewing are to be done in a family.

BETWEEN THE SHOWERS.

Down it came—the summer shower—
Bursting from the nimbus cloud,
Speeding its imperious power
On the great tree, strong and proud,
And the great tree murmur'd loud
As it caught the summer shower—
Deem'd it as a diamond dower.
When the cloud, its passion spent,
Broke and drifted, pale and rent,
Like a king refresh'd with wine
Shone the trees—O heart of mine!
Pass through passion's frequent stress
With a like strong steadfastness.

Down it came—the summer shower—
Rushing through the sobbing air,
Beating on the lily flower,
Till she trembled in despair
For her blossom white and fair.
But in silence bent the flower,
Yielding perfume through the hour,
Till the sunbeams came and shed
A new glory on her head,
On her robes, more dazzling white,
And her crown more golden bright.
Thus—my heart!—is patience tried,
Thus is meekness glorified.

Down it came—the summer rain—
Dashing through the darken'd sky,
On the green and tender grain;
Which received it with a sigh,
Quiver'd in each blade, and nigh
Bow'd unto the earth with grief,
But a whisper of the sheaf
Raised its head, and so it stood,
Swelling unto bounteous food;
And ere yet the rain was o'er,
Glist'ning gladder than before.
Thus—my heart!—may dire distress
But increase thy fruitfulness.

MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC.

Max Maretzek has leased the Winter Garden for his next operatic performances, to commence in October. Edwin Booth will perform at the same house on alternate evenings. Another theatrical news item is, the almost certainty that Fetcher will be here in the course of the autumn. To say nothing of the great Ristori, the fall season thus promises to open with unusual eclat.

Among the engagements of Max Maretzek for his season of Italian Opera in New York are Ronconi, the famous buffo, and Brignoli, the sweet toned tenor. The latter has taken rooms at Newport for August.

It is now positively stated that there will be no Italian Opera in Boston next season, the present lessees of the Boston Theatre being very much opposed to the breaking up of dramatic performances for the introduction of opera.

We are glad to learn that Mr. Perabo, the gifted pianist, who made such a marked sensation at the close of the last musical season, will make Boston his home the coming winter and receive pupils.

Mr. Eichberg, formerly leader of the orchestra of the Boston Museum, is recreating for the fall campaign. The great success of Mr. Eichberg's operas in New York has created quite a rivalry among New York and Philadelphia managers, and already many months of this talented composer's time is engaged for the coming season. He intends, we are sorry to say, to make New York his home hereafter.

Mr. James Kendall, after an absence in California of thirteen years, has returned to Boston, and will take part in the concert to be given in Boston Theatre for the sufferers of the Portland fire. The many friends of Mr. Kendall will gladly welcome his return.

AMERICAN FIRE ARMS.

Extraordinary Concession of France.

[From the Washington Republican.]

We see in the New York Evening Post a statement that "a remarkable increase of activity is observed in the military establishment of France. Uniforms, arms, and ammunition are got ready in the greatest haste, and to a sufficient amount for the equipment of the army at its full strength. The reserves only have as yet not been called in, but these are always to be obtained at eight or ten days' notice."

An important and interesting fact may be added to the above which not only exhibits energy on the part of France, but is highly complimentary to American skill in gunnery. It has just come to our knowledge that within ten days the French Government procured of a distinguished machinist in Philadelphia the complete machinery for the manufacture of the Springfield rifle, at a cost of one hundred thousand francs in gold. This arm, it is well known, is peculiarly American, and the adoption of it by the Napoleonic bureau of ordnance is another evidence of its superiority.

To this still another interesting fact may be stated, which shows that while France is endeavoring to keep step with the United States, our Government is ever active in its efforts to excel and keep ahead of all others in procuring the most effective weapon for the field. To this end the Military Board, ordered by the Secretary of War and appointed by Lieutenant General Grant, of which Major General Hancock was President, to examine and report upon the qualities of the various fire arms now in use by the different nations of the earth, have, after carefully examining sixty one different rifles and muskets, breech-loading, determined, after all, that the most effective, safe and substantial is the Springfield rifle, with the celebrated Berdan improvement, which changes it from a muzzle to a breech-loading arm. The Board was so reported, and we learn, unofficially, that they were unanimous in arriving at that conclusion, which, if true, makes the report the more valuable. The Board was composed of the most experienced infantry, cavalry, artillery and ordnance officers of the regular army, namely:

Maj. Gen. Hancock, Infantry; Maj. Gen. Buchanan, Infantry; Maj. Gen. Griffin, artillery; Brig. Gen. Hegner, ordnance; Col. Owens, cavalry; Col. Benton, ordnance; Col. Porter, ordnance.

We understand that a sample Springfield rifle, with the improvement recommended by the Board, is now making at the order of an agent of the French Government, and will be sent to France forthwith. This shows how closely Napoleon watches the workshops of America, and seizes upon every improvement discovered. Visitors to the "Great Exposition" will observe the Springfield rifle, with the Berdan breech loading improvement, on exhibition as manufactured in the arsenals of France. Such is the rapidity with which the great Powers of Europe adopt our inventions.

In connection with the above the following extract from a recent letter from Fortress Monroe, will be read with interest:

Some very interesting experiments with "Gatling's Improved Battery Gun," which have been in progress here for the past three weeks, were concluded to-day. The experiments have been under the supervision of officers of the Ordnance Department designated for the purpose, and the results speak most favorably for this novel and certainly most powerful projectile. Most of the experiments have been made in conjunction with a twenty-four pounder flank defense howitzer. Where the howitzer throwing canister hit the target once the missiles from this gun hit it six times, both at short and long range, the former from three hundred to four hundred yards distant; and the latter at the distance of from one and a half to two miles. The howitzer did not shoot at long range. This gun is a revolving gun of six chambers, and is capable of shooting one hundred times a minute. At short range it throws fifteen one-half inch balls, contained in each cartridge, and a cap ball, making sixteen missiles at each discharge, and sixteen hundred missiles a minute. At long range it fires one-half pound Minie balls. Its capacity to load and fire incessantly while revolving, its freedom from foulness and wonderful accuracy have astonished every one witnessing the experiments. A report of the result will be made direct to the Ordnance Department. A gun of the same name and by the same inventor was attempted to be introduced in the late war; but the present is a great improvement on that gun. Three men can manage it, and its cost will not exceed that of the ordinary cannon, while for efficiency it is claimed to bear the same relation toward common field artillery that McCormick's reaper does to the sickle, the sewing machine to the needle, or telegraphic communication to the old fashioned stage coach. I am informed that the inventor proposes not to give any other nation the benefit of the invention, whether our Government adopts or not.

Successful Treatment of Hydrophobia.

A dog which showed signs of rabies recently escaped from Mr. Higgs, of Tresscot, communicating the disorder to other dogs and doing other mischief. About a month ago a servant girl in Mr. Higgs's service was tying up the dog, when the animal bit her on the right thumb. She experienced no serious results until Tuesday week, when her arm, thumb and chest became considerably swollen, accompanied with great heat, pain, redness, stiffness, and numbness, the arm being so stiff that she was almost unable to move it. Mr. Higgs sent for Mr. Pope, surgeon of this town, who saw the girl on Thursday, and found her evidently suffering from hydrophobia, the result of the bite of the dog. On Friday night she became very ill, biting and tearing at almost anything near her, and suffering much from convulsions. She repeatedly declared that she heard the dog growling at her; indeed, she displayed all the symptoms of this dreaded disease. As surgical writers on the subject do not lay down any specific mode of treatment in cases of this kind, Mr. Pope determined to cause profuse salivation in the patient, with the view of neutralizing the poisonous character of the saliva of hydrophobia. This is a course of procedure not often pursued, but its beneficial effects were soon apparent. On Sunday the convulsions and the spasms from which the poor girl also suffered, had ceased, and there now appears to be every prospect of her ultimate recovery.—Wolverhampton (England) Chronicle.

UTILIZING COAL DUST.—Some attention is paid just now to the question of the best method of utilizing the immense quantities of coal dust, or slack, produced at our coal mines. In Cheshire, England, there is a great demand for this slack for the furnaces used in evaporating brine. The best method of burning it is one which has been employed during several years past with great success. Three tubes project from the boiler in such a manner that the water from the boiler keeps them filled; above this is a large hopper, capable of containing, say, ten or twenty hundred weight of coal dust, the bottom of the hopper being an iron plate, with slits allowing the coal dust to fall between the tubes upon the furnace-fire beneath. A raker connected with the engine travels very slowly backward and forward on the face of the plate, causing the coal dust to fall gradually and constantly through each slit in succession upon the fire. The consequences are that the fire can be regulated to any degree of heat; a perfect combustion occurs; the smoke is consumed; the bottom of the boiler is not so liable to be burned, and much manual labor is dispensed with.—Journal of Mining.

CURIOUS CALCULATION.—Few persons have any tolerable notion of the space which would be occupied by the whole population now living on the globe, if congregated together; and as to that vast majority, the dead, the wildest conjectures have been indulged in. Some have been even doubtful whether such a number of human beings could find standing room on the whole face of the earth. Now, taking the present population of the earth to number one thousand millions, and assuming that the average population of the earth from the time of Adam till now, has been half that number, and that the generations of men have averaged forty years each, we come to this conclusion that the smallest county of New York State would afford sitting room for all the men, women and children now alive on the earth, and that a number of human beings, equal to all that have ever lived on the face of the earth, might stand within the area of the largest county of that State.

GEN. FREMONT IN HOT WATER AGAIN.—It is reported that General Fremont has sued the Pacific Railroad Company for possession of the road from St. Louis to Franklin. The original Pacific Railroad was commenced at St. Louis, to run to the western boundary of the State, and that Pacific Railroad Company built a branch road from Franklin to Jefferson City, and called it the Pacific Railroad, claiming it to commence at St. Louis, and then styled the part of the main road from Franklin the Southwest Branch of the Pacific Railroad. The deed, mortgages and papers connected with the sale of the Railroad to General Fremont are now being recorded in various counties along the line of road. It is stated that the revenue stamps on these documents amount to one thousand dollars.

PROPOSALS FOR MATERIALS TO BE SUPPLIED TO THE NAVY YARDS, UNDER THE COGNIZANCE OF THE BUREAU OF STEAM ENGINEERING.

NAVY DEPARTMENT,
BUREAU OF STEAM ENGINEERING,
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 19, 1866.

Sealed proposals to furnish Materials for the Navy for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1867, will be received at this Bureau until 10 o'clock, A. M., of the 18th of July next, at which time the proposals will be opened.

The proposals must be addressed to the Chief of the Bureau of Steam Engineering, Navy Department, Washington and must be endorsed, "Proposals for Materials for the Navy," that they may be distinguished from other business letters.

Printed schedules for any class, together with instructions to bidders, giving the forms of proposals, of guarantee, and of certificates of guarantors, will be furnished to such persons as desire to bid, on application to the commandants of the respective navy yards, and those of all the yards on application to the Bureau.

The Commandant of each navy yard and the Purchasing Paymasters for each station will have a copy of the schedules of the other yards, for examination only, in order that persons who intend to bid may judge whether it is desirable to make application for any of the classes of those yards.

The proposal must be for the whole of a class; and all applications for information or for the examination of samples, must be made to the Commandants of the respective yards.

The proposal must be accompanied by a certificate from the Collector of Internal Revenue for the district in which the bidder resides, that he has a license to deal in the articles for which he proposes; and he must further show that he is a manufacturer of, or a regular dealer in, the articles which he offers to supply. The guarantors must be certified by the Assessor of Internal Revenue for the district in which they reside.

The contract will be awarded to the person who makes the lowest bid and gives the guarantee required by law, the Navy Department, however, reserving the right to reject the lowest bid, or any which it may deem exorbitant.

Sureties in the full amount will be required to sign the contract, and their responsibility must be certified to the satisfaction of the Navy Department. As additional security twenty per centum will be withheld from the amount of the bills until the contract shall have been completed, and eighty per centum of the amount of each bill, approved in triplicate by the Commandant of the respective yard, will be paid by the Paymaster of the station designated in the contract in funds or certificates, at the option of the Government, within ten days after the warrant for the same shall have been passed by the Secretary of the Treasury.

DISARMED !!!

The Chief Causes of Pestilence Destroyed.

DR. E. COURTARET'S DISINFECTING FLUIDS, secured by Letters Patent in the United States and France. Prepared solely by the New York Disinfecting Company, at their Laboratory, Nos. 298, 300 & 302 Henry street, New York. Office, 42 Cedar street.

This Company organized on a permanent basis, with Dr. Courtaret, the celebrated French Chemist, in charge of its Laboratory, is prepared to furnish its DISINFECTING FLUIDS for sick rooms, nurseries, urinals, water closets, privies, cesspools, sewers, gutters, ships, railroads, hospitals, prisons and public institutions of all kinds, slaughter-houses, offal and fat boiling establishments; all kinds of manures (immensely increasing the value of the latter to every farmer), and wherever poisonous and offensive gases exist. These agents are deodorizers, antiseptics, antiputrescents and disinfectants in the scientific meaning of the words. They remove noxious gases and odors by chemical principles—leaving in their places healthful air; they are DESTROYERS, and not merely absorbents of poisonous gases—not injurious to utensils in which they are used. The attention of medical and scientific men is directed to these disinfectants. Attached are testimonials in favor of this great discovery, which, with hundreds of others can be seen at the Company's office.

DELAVAN HOUSE, ALBANY, March 30, 1866.

To the President of the New York Disinfecting Company:

Dear Sir: It is all it is represented to be. We have made many trials of disinfectants, but now consider that we have found an article which surpasses all others as a remedy against all bad odors.

T. ROESSLE & Co.

NEW YORK, April 9, 1866.

To the President of the New York Disinfecting Company:

Dear Sir: We pronounce it without exception to be the best we have ever known. Its effects upon every matter is complete and instantaneous.

ANOTHER HORRIBLE MURDER

Body of a Young Colored Girl Found in Sewickley Creek—Four Men Arrested on Suspicion of having Committed the Murder.

On Friday last Mr. Daniel E. Nevin, of Sewickley borough, Assistant Assessor of Internal Revenue for the Twenty-third District, called upon Mayor Morrison, of Allegheny, and informed him that Caroline Ford, a colored girl, aged about nineteen years, employed in his family as a domestic, had disappeared from his house mysteriously on the previous Monday night, under circumstances which led to the belief that she had been foully dealt with. The Mayor immediately dispatched Chief of Police McKain to Sewickley to investigate the matter, but the officer was unable to discover any traces of her. Early on Saturday morning, however, two men named Alexander Hamilton and John Nash, who were employed by the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad Company as track repairers, discovered the body of the unfortunate girl lying in Little Sewickley Creek, near Edgeworth Station. The body had evidently been lying in the water for several days, as it was very much decomposed. The limbs were wide apart, stiff and rigid, while the arms were raised upward and the hands clinched, as if in the frenzy of a last struggle. The tongue protruded from the mouth an inch or two, while the upper part of the body was greatly swollen. Coroner Clawson was immediately sent for, who empanneled a jury and proceeded to hold an inquest.

Louisa Murray, a colored girl, and friend of the deceased, testified that deceased had visited her on Monday night at the house of Mr. Dickson; she left Mr Dickson's to return to Mr. Nevin's about ten o'clock, and that was the last witness heard or saw of her until Wednesday, when her disappearance was reported; William Dabney and Benjamin Ford, colored, (cousin to Caroline,) were at the house of Mr. Shields with Caroline, but left before she went home. Scott Russell, also colored, lived in the house, but went to bed after she had gone, and witness believed did not leave the house until morning. This witness also testified as to the description of apron Caroline had worn, and to the fact that she had attached to it, by a piece of ribbon, a pair of scissors. This statement was important, for the scissors and apron were found at Mr. Nevin's house the next morning, showing that Caroline had returned home, left these articles there, and then went out again.

Owing to the absence of witnesses, the jury adjourned until this morning at nine o'clock. That the girl came to her death by violence, and that the body was dragged to the creek with a view of secreting it cannot be doubted. She was an industrious girl, and bore a good character. It is also stated that deceased was engaged to be married to Scott Russell, and that the ceremony was to have been performed on Sunday evening.

Officer McKain, at the suggestion of citizens of Sewickly, arrested Benjamin Ford, Wm. Dabney and Scott Russell on suspicion of having committed the murder. Shortly after their arrest, another colored man, named Archibald Lee, attracted attention to himself by making unnecessary protestations of his innocence, when he was also placed under arrest. The four men were brought to Allegheny City and taken before Mayor Morrison, who committed them to jail to await the action of the Coroner's jury.

The Hot Weather.

Yesterday, everybody was in a melting mood and had to suffer the process of a healthful perspiration. Some endured it worse than others, but all felt it pro rata. "Ninety in the shade" was the feather that broke the camel's back. At noon the thermometer stood 105° in the sun, and pedestrians invariably took to the shady side. Not a breeze stirred during the day. The morning opened very warm, and by noon a tropical sultriness pervaded every spot in and around the city. The churches mourned over a scattering audience, and the clergy preached briefer and more practical sermons than had been heard for some months before. Evening services were held in very few churches. People managed to retain their equanimity quite admirably, but at and beyond this limit, brows were contracted as in pain, the profane ran through the vocabulary of strong adjectives, and thousands groaned under the rigid laws of the Sabbath which had closed up the soda water fountains and sherry cobbler manufacturers, so they resorted to ice water and fans to "cool off" with, but the use of so much muscle in vibrating the fans served a different purpose, by producing a fine glow and starting the perspiration afresh from every pore, to the utter destruction of collars, shirt bosoms and handkerchiefs. Not even the benefit of the street sprinklers fluvial dispensation was granted. The whole population of the city fairly sweltered, but we heard of no sunstroke cases, although many persons were quite overcome with the heat. The summer season, however, is half over, and September advances with a salubrious atmosphere, therefore, let the memory of the cool nights of June and the hope of a felicitous future "bridge this burning chasm of a torrid summer."

The Great Trot to Harness To-day.

H. B. Van Voorhis's bay horse "Joe," the winner of the great trot on Friday last, and "Annie Laurie" and "General Thomas," will enter into another contest, to harness, this afternoon at three o'clock, over the Oakland Park Track. There is a very marked interest exhibited by turf-men in this locality, in these trots, which will decide the much disputed question of which of these trotters can make the best time. The trot on Friday resulted differently from what many had anticipated, and not a few who supposed that they were going to control matters, were not only deceived in themselves but lost their money in the bargain. Major Van Voorhis is determined to conduct the business at Oakland Park in a straightforward and respectable style, and no armstrong drivers will meet with any sympathy from him. The trot to-day will be very largely attended. "Annie Laurie" and "Joe" are the favorites, and "General Thomas" finds a few strong backers. There is always a difference in every race trotted, and to-day, it may be, that better time will be made than last week. The final trot, under saddle, comes off next Thursday afternoon. That will be a very interesting contest, as everybody knows that a horse will make far better time under the saddle than in going to wagon or harness. To-morrow afternoon there will be an interesting match between two fast pacing horses, for a premium of six hundred dollars, and a half mile run against time for two hundred dollars.

Melancholy Suicide.

Coroner Clawson held an inquest last evening on the body of a colored man named George Walters, a resident of Birmingham, who committed suicide by drowning himself in the Monongahela river. The deceased, who was seventy-seven years of age, has been partially deranged for some time, and although in comfortable circumstances, appeared to be apprehensive that he would come to want. Yesterday afternoon about three o'clock, the deceased left his residence, on Liberty street, Birmingham, and went into the Monongahela river, between Ormsby and Denman streets. He walked out into the stream until the water reached his waist, when he deliberately put his head under the water. A young man named Nicholas Sitzman, who was standing on the bank, immediately went to his assistance and succeeded in bringing him to shore, but he died in about ten minutes afterward. The jury rendered a verdict of "death by suicide."

CHARGED WITH FRAUD.—Mr. A. W. McGinnis appeared before Alderman Strain, on Saturday, and made an information against Thomas R. Spencer, charging him with fraud and false pretenses. McGinnis alleges that in the month of June he sold a store house to Spencer, who paid him three hundred dollars cash, and promised to pay the remainder ($700) in a short time. McGinnis further alleges that Spencer removed goods to the value of six hundred dollars, with the evident intention, prosecutor verily believes, to defraud him. Spencer was arrested and held in the sum of two thousand dollars bail for a hearing, in default of which he was committed to jail.

SEVERELY INJURED.—Jas. Montgomery, a driver in the employ of Mr. J. Johnston, of the Fifth ward, was severely injured on Saturday, on Pike street, by being knocked down and run over by a horse. Montgomery was leading the horse past a boy who was watering the street with a hose, when the lad, at the request of Montgomery, directed the stream upon the animal. The horse, not relishing the bath, reared upon his hind feet, knocked down his driver, and then ran away. Montgomery was conveyed to his residence, on Mulberry alley, and Dr. Burgher summoned, who dressed his wounds.

BOY DROWNED.—On Saturday evening about four o'clock, a lad aged about seven years, whose mother resides at No. 17 Penn street, Joseph Thenny O'Neil, was missed from his home, and on search being made, his body was found in the Monongahela river, near the Point yesterday afternoon about one o'clock. It is supposed he had been playing about the boats in the vicinity, from one of which he fell and was drowned. The Coroner's jury which held an inquest yesterday, found a verdict of accidental drowning.

SAD OCCURRENCE.—On Friday last a little boy, aged about two years, son of Mr. Solomon Solomons, of the First ward, Allegheny, died from the effects of drinking lye. The child's mother had mixed the lye in a glass, and placed it on a step for a few moments, when the little fellow seized the glass and drank a portion of its contents. Medical aid was immediately summoned, but death resulted in a short time afterwards.

KICKED BY A HORSE.—On Saturday afternoon as a boy was leading a horse along Logan street, in the Sixth ward, a colored lad named George Wright slipped up behind the animal and struck him a severe blow on the flank with a heavy stick. The horse, not being accustomed to such ways, kicked his assailant on the head, inflicting a severe scalp wound. Wright was removed to his residence on Wylie street, where his injuries were attended to by Dr. A. M. Pollock.

PITTSBURGH GIFT CONCERT will certainly come off at City Hall, on the 30th inst. Tickets selling fast. There will be a splendid musical entertainment besides the distribution of some very valuable gifts. See advertisement in another column. The managers are determined to have no more postponement.

THE CITY CHURCHES.—In accordance with the usual custom during the "heated term," most of the city churches will be closed during Sunday afternoon and evening, while the hot weather lasts—divine services to be held only in the forenoon. This rule will be more generally observed during the present season than has ever been known before in this community.

INJURED BY A FALL.—Benjamin Tustin, a carpenter, residing in Pitt township, fell from the roof of a new two story building to the cellar below, on Saturday, and fractured his skull. His condition is considered critical.

SEE advertisement of Sheaffer & Co., in column of "wants."

Public Amusements.

THEATRE.—Duprez & Benedict's minstrels commence the second week of their engagement at the theatre this evening, with a varied programme. The troop will remain only this week, as engagements elsewhere preclude the possibility of their remaining longer. New songs, new dances and new burlesques and jokes are announced for to-night, and we doubt not a crowded audience will be present to enjoy them.

PANORAMA OF THE REBELLION.—Harry H. Davis will this evening unfold his painting of the Great Rebellion, at Masonic Hall. Mr. Davis is a resident of Harrisburg, where the painting was executed. He served in the army, and most of his sketches were made by him while in the field. His panorama is pronounced a fine work of art by all who have seen it.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

SATURDAY, July 14—P. M.

The New York quotations to-day at noon do not materially differ from the previous day's, and the closing rates at the Board will be found as usual under our "New York Finance and Trade."

The game of the clique in Erie has been spoiled somewhat by the large short interest in the stock having "covered" earlier than was expected. The combination appears to have now adopted the policy of keeping the price steady at about present quotations, with a view to drawing out new shorts. The market generally sympathizes with the quiet in the Erie movement.

—There is no changes to note in our local market. The heated term is so oppressive upon us that there is little activity in anything. Rates of the leading names of home stocks are about the same as repeated in previous transactions.

—The Philadelphia Ledger says: Some of the New York papers have a long cock-and-bull story relative to frauds said to have been committed by some one of the new banks in New Jersey, the name of which is withheld. These frauds are stated to have been practised by the issuing of bogus certificates of deposit, payable thirty to sixty days after date, which were used in purchasing goods by accomplices of the bank. Several parties throughout the country are alleged to have been defrauded of large sums in this manner. The whole thing reads very much like a police sensational, and the facts, if true at all, are no doubt greatly exaggerated, as we can scarcely believe that many business men could be found foolish enough to accept as a valuable consideration such post orders from unknown parties.

—Notwithstanding the heavy losses which Eastern insurance companies have sustained the last six months, they are able to divide handsome dividends. The following are a few names which we find in our exchanges: The Lamar Fire Insurance Company has declared a semi-annual dividend of 5 per cent. The Manhattan Insurance Company has declared a half-yearly dividend of 5 per cent. The Mercantile Mutual Insurance Company has declared a semi-annual dividend of five per cent. The Rutgers Fire Insurance Company has declared a semi annual dividend of 5 per cent.

—A London letter dated June 30, received by the Persia, contains the following:

The disappointment felt at the refusal of the bank directors to reduce the rate of discount has been almost equal in its effects to a renewal of the panic. Seldom, if ever, was a more universal belief indulged in, and seldom has a disappointment been more keenly or depressing in its result. The bank lobby was crowded with merchants and moneyed men, while the directors were in session, anxious for the first intelligence that the rate had been reduced, and bitter, indeed, was the feeling when it was announced that "no change had been made." The result has been a drying up of the cheerful tone exhibited in the early part of the week, and a set back to the improvement that was then witnessed.

—Three thousand shares of "Star Oil Company," sold by auction on Tuesday, in Philadelphia, at one cent per share, or thirty dollars. This lot at one time could have been disposed of for seven thousand dollars!

PITTSBURGH GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, MONDAY, July 16, 1866.

Business on Saturday was very dull. This however is no unusual occurrence for the last day of the week. The intensely hot weather has no doubt been a material drawback in trade generally. Dealers for some time have confined their purchases to lots to supply their immediate wants. They don't seem to have much faith in the present figures, consequently many are waiting to see whether lower prices will be inaugurated. Produce—The market contains an abundant supply of the articles that come under this head. Prices for some time have been irregular and somewhat uncertain. Flour—Holders continue firm in their views, not being disposed to make concessions in order to effect sales. The rates that were current some days since would answer on the present occasion. The demand for export has fallen off. The stock on the market at this time is not large. Bacon can be classed as one of the firmest articles in the market. The supply in fact falls far below the demand. The advance we have previously mentioned has been fully maintained, with large orders on hand remaining unfilled. Grain—We have nothing new to note in regard to this article as regards prices or demand. Prices for most descriptions were irregular. Butter was dull with more sellers than purchasers. Prices are drooping. Cheese—The market was steady but not very active. Below will be found the sales that came under our notice:

FEED—The market was in good supply with a fair trade demand. The sales were as follows: 5 tons middlings, $1 60; 5 do, light, $1 50 per cwt.; 5 tons shorts, 85c; 4½ tons shipstuffs, $1 10, and 10 tons seconds, $1 10 per cwt.

SALT—The market has undergone no particular change. Sales 100 bbls at $2 50 per bbl.

CHEESE—The demand is improving. Sales 40 boxes Hamburg at 17c; 50 do W R., 15@16c, and 29 do Goshen, 20@21c.

HAY—The sales at the scales were made at a variety of prices, according to quality. Sales 10 loads, new crop, $17 00@19 00; sales 8 do, old, $24 00@25 00 per ton. Baled was unchanged, with a fair local demand.

BUTTER—We have nothing new to note in regard to this article. The supply exceeds the demand. So far as relates to prices we have no change to note. 14 packages were disposed of at prices ranging from 20@25c per condition.

SEEDS—The demand for some time past was confined to Flax, which, being scarce, holders were demanding $3 00 per bush. There was nothing doing in the other descriptions.

DRIED PEACHES—Were in fair demand. Sales of 10 bbls quarters at 18@18½c ℔ lb.

FISH—Since the warm weather set in the market has been firm with an improved demand. Sales of 25 half bbls White Fish at $9 50; sales 30 do Lake Herring at $5 50. Other descriptions were unchanged. The stock in first hands is not large.

BACON—Was among the firmest articles to be found. The demand being far in advance of the supply. Shoulders—Sales 7,500 lbs at 17@17½c; Sides, ribbed, 6,000 lbs at 20c; clear was held at the usual advance. S. C. Hams—Sales 5,000 lbs canvassed at 25@26c. The present stock will soon be exhausted.

FLOUR—The firmness we have noticed in this article continues, with an active demand for home purposes. The weakness reported in the market we have not been able to discern. The stock on hand is not large. Among the sales were the following: Extra Family White Wheat—125 barrels at $12 75; 100 do at $12 50@$13. Fancy lots or favorite brands would command higher prices. Spring Wheat Flour—sales of 45 barrels at $10 75; 100 do in lots at $11 00; other sales were made at the same range of price.

GRAIN—The market since our last has presented but few features worthy of special notice. The sales were on a moderate scale, buyers being disposed to take hold sparingly. Their faith in the present prices does not appear to be very strong. Wheat—There was but little activity manifested in regard to this article. Prices were too unsettled to quote correctly. We omit figures. Oats—The demand was limited. Sales of 3 cars Western at 47½@48c. Sales of 700 bushels from store at 50c. Corn dull; sales of 200 bushels shelled at 75c. Barley and Rye were without change. Prices uncertain.

POTATOES—The market was dull with a downward tendency in prices. Small sales were reported at $3@3 25 ℔ barrel. The supply exceeds the demand.

EGGS—Were dull. Prices nominal at 17@18c.

LARD—The market was dull but not quotably lower. Sales at 22@22½c.

LARD OIL—Was without change. Sales of 20 barrels No. 1 at $1 80 per gallon.

Oats—Unchanged and dull at 50c in sacks.

Hay—Dull at $2 00a24 00.

Cotton—Dull at 35c for middling. The receipts during the last twenty-four hours were 174 bales. The stock in port, not cleared, is 105,856 bales.

Decline in Wheat at Chicago.

The Chicago Journal of Wednesday says: "The wheat market in this city was panic stricken to-day, owing to the breaking of the 'corner' on regular No. 1 spring, which rapidly declined 27 and 28 cents per bushel on yesterday's closing figures. Other grades declined 12 and 15 cents. The prospect of large arrivals of the new crop in a few days has had a tendency to cause the decline."

Fish and Fruit Markets.

PHILADELPHIA, July 14—Fish—There has been a limited inquiry for mackerel at previously quoted rates. A few small lots have been disposed of from store at $24 25 for shore No 1; $19 00a19 50 for shore No 2, and $14 50 for large 3's. A small arrival of new No 3's sold at $17. New codfish are quiet, and command 7 to 8 cents for George's and Grand Bank. Pickled herring are held at $4a8 per bbl; scaled do 65a70c, and No 1 55a57c. Shad are very scarce, and mess may be quoted at $22. Small sales of salmon at $48 per tierce.

Fruit—Foreign—There has been very little doing. Sales of the balance of a cargo of Messina oranges at 50c to $6 50, and lemons at 50c to $8 50 per box.

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY COMMERCIAL, MONDAY, July 16, 1866.

The following are the receipts of oil by the Allegheny, Monongahela and Ohio rivers and the various railroads for the past week. Also from the first of January, with a comparative table for the same period in 1865:

	Rivers.	Railroads.	Total.
Monday, July 9	1,627		1,627
Tuesday, July 10	11,370	1,900	13,270
Wednesday, July 11	1,441	2,000	3,441
Thursday, July 12	1,418	1,500	2,918
Friday, July 13	296	1,594	1,890
Saturday, July 14	71	1,612	1,683
Total for week	16,223	8,606	24,829
Since January 1	633,794	165,173	798,967
Receipts to July 14	650,017	173,779	823,796
Same time in 1865	180,060	74,510	254,570
Increase in 1866	469,957	99,269	569,226

The week just closed was decidedly one of the dullest we have ever experienced for a long time. We never witnessed less disposition to operate than was manifested since our last. Notwithstanding holders of Crude made concessions, buyers took hold very sparingly. Besides, the principal portion of the transactions were for fall delivery. The stock of Crude on the market is very light. The river to Oil City being in a low condition, makes navigation both difficult and expensive. The Eastern market has been very dull, whilst the European demand has been lighter than usual. The nominal rates for Crude at this time are Bulk, and packages returned 11½, 12@12½c. Reports were made at even lower prices. Sales were made, including packages, at 17@17½c. Sales, to a considerable extent, were made for September and October delivery. The season's receipts to the present time, from all sources are the largest ever reported. The increase this year over last, by the rivers, amounts to 469,957 barrels; by railroads, 99,269; total increase in barrels, 569,226 barrels. These are tall figures; we know, however, that they are correct. The receipts of Smith's Ferry oil are steadily on the increase. Large amounts are weekly left at the refineries at Manchester and Saw Mill Run. Refined Oil—Prices during the week have declined materially. Whilst certain holders are inclined to sell at present prices, others are inclined to hold off. The rates at present are nominal and in favor of buyers, who understand how to make the proper use of the same. Any figures we could furnish without sales to fortify them with would be of but little benefit to our dealers, consequently we omit them, promising dealers who intend purchasing that oils can be purchased at a low figure. The only inquiry was for bonded, while free oil was not among the articles wanted.

TAR—The market was dull; prices were nominal at $3@3 25 ℔ barrel, with small sales.

BENZOLE—Nobody inquires for this article. It appears to have gone out of use. We can furnish no figures.

CRUDE OIL—Saturday's transactions only reached 1,650 barrels, all told. The market was dull, with the advantage on the side of buyers, who are generally disposed to wait even for lower prices. Sales of 700 barrels bulk at 12c; 350 barrels do, packages returned, at 11½c. Saturday's receipts by the river were for Fisher Brothers 1,043 barrels.

REFINED—We did not learn of a single transaction in bonded either for present or future delivery. Prices were too uncertain to quote correctly; 50 barrels of free was disposed of to the trade at 50½c. This would be equal to 30c for bonded on the spot.

Receipts of the new clip have been large.

DETROIT, July 13.—The market throughout the State is dull and farmers do not seem inclined to part with their clip at the present low prices, believing that there will yet be an advance. The following are reports from various sections of the State:

ANN ARBOR, July 12.—Nothing doing, and the range is nominal at 55a60c. Some of our dealers might pay outside figures for choice, for the sake of getting the market started, but they would not be disposed to invest to any great extent at that figure.

At Ypsilanti, Niles and Dowagiac there is nothing doing. Nominal range 55a58c.

OWOSSO, 12.—The market is very quiet at 55a57c. Not a load in to-day.

LANSING, 11.—Little or nothing doing. Buyers would pay 55a58c.

CHELSEA, 12.—Good (but not extra) may be had for 55c. Hemingway, of New York, two days since, bought 10,000 lbs. at 58a60c, but the market is now dull. There are 10,000 lbs. now unsold in the street.

PORTLAND, 11.—Buyers offer 55a57c. No sales for three days.

MT. CLEMENS, 12.—Wool quiet at 52a55c.

PLYMOUTH, 12.—Sales 5,000 lbs. at an average of 54. Fraick is paying 56a57.

NORTHVILLE.—Wool nominal at 55c.

PONTIAC, 12.—Wool ranges from 5 a58c. Very little in.

KALAMAZOO.—Market flat, ranging in prices paid, from 50a55c. Lots that a few days since commanded 58a60c, now can only be sold at 53c.

CHICAGO, July 14—We note a reduction of 1a2c per lb on all descriptions. The demand from manufacturers was light, and the market generally was quiet and unsettled at the quotations. There is upwards of 800,000 a 1,000,000 lbs at present in store. We quote: Tub, extra clean, 60c; do common, 50c; fine fleece good condition, light, 55c; do bad condition heavy, 52c; medium fleece good condition 55c; do bad condition, 53c; coarse fleece, very light, 55c.

BALTIMORE, July 14.—Wool continues in good demand and the market is very firm. We quote unwashed at 38a39c; tub washed 50a55c; fleece washed 45 a 50c, and fine fleece 53a57½c ℔ lb.

SANDUSKY, OHIO, July 12.—Wool sells steadily at 50 to 52c. Some 15,000 lbs were taken yesterday, the most of it at 50c.

TOLEDO, July 13.—The shipments of Wool by Lake for four days of the present week, from Toledo, amount to 3,182 bales, or 636,400 lbs. The shipments by Lake and Rail for the same time amount to 715,600 pounds.

RAVENNA, OHIO, July 13.—Messrs. Dodge, Morse and Kendrick have just completed a wool purchase of 80,000 lbs., at prices ranging from 45 to 57c. There has been no excitement among the wool growers, except a slight strife to see who could sell his wool clip first. There is 18 to scarcely wool enough in Randolph to make a pair of stockings.

CADIZ, July 13.—The prices of wool in this county tend upward. The estimated wool clip in the hands of our farmers at least one half of the wool clip of the present year, which, at a low estimate, leaves 500,000 lbs of wool unsold.

PHILADELPHIA, July 14.—The Commercial List says: There has been some spirit in the Wool market since our last notice, and buyers have held off to await the action of Congress on the tariff bill. The postponement by the Senate has disappointed everybody and the Western speculators, who have been paying higher prices than can be realized, will suffer heavily. The receipts have been quite liberal, and the stock is beginning to accumulate. The sales comprise 28,000 lbs fleece, 70a72c; 100,000 lbs 3-4 and full blood, 62½@69c; 55,000 lbs 1-4 to full blood, 66@72½c; 12,000 lbs 3-4 blood, 70@72c; 30,000 lbs 3-4 blood, 68c; 20,000 1-2 blood, 72½c; 70,000 lbs 1-2 and 3-4 blood, 65c; 13,000 lbs 1-4 1-2 blood 65@68c; 14,000 lbs 1-4 blood, 69c; 16,000 lbs 1-4 blood, 65c; 20,000 mixed fleece, 65c; 7,500 lbs mixed it ece, 65c; 30,000 lbs tub, 67c; 17,000 lbs tub, 65c; 4,000 lbs scoured tub, 70@75c; 1,500 lbs common, 65c; 5,000 lbs common, 65c; 1,500 lbs coarse fleece, 62c; 7,500 lbs common and 1-4 blood, 60@62c; 45,000 lbs unwashed, 41@43c.

NEW YORK, July 14.—The postponement of the Tariff Bill has occasioned a material falling off in the demand, and had the effect of unsettling prices to some extent—both of Foreign and of Domestic Fleeces—which are nominally lower, except for choice lots. The sales comprise 163,000 lbs State and Western fleece, mainly at 70a75c; 60,000 lbs various pulled, 58a66c; 45,000 lbs Texas, [illegible]; 180 bales pulled, 34@64c; 155,000 lbs Texas, [illegible]; 450 bales California, [illegible]; 100 bales Mestiza, [illegible]; do. East India, 15,000 lbs Russian on private terms; and 13,000 sheep skins, 92c.

Grocery Markets.

PHILADELPHIA, July 14.—Coffee—The market is at a stand, there being no disposition to purchase, and the only sales reported are 119 bags Rio at 22¼a27½c; 170 bags Laguayra at 18c, gold; 27a27½c currency; 250 bags St. Domingo at 21c, by auction 50 bags damaged Cape at 20½a20⅞c, and 60 bags Laguayra at 20½c.

Molasses—The market continues inactive, but for the present we continue our former quotations. Sales of 50 hhds Cardenas clayed at 49½c, 4 mos; 60 hhds Muscovado at 49a54c; 50 do clayed, by auction, at 40a45c; and 300 hhds Sugar House, part at 28c, and part on secret terms.

Rice—Is but little sought after. Sales of Rangoon at 9½a9¾c.

Sugar—The market has been extremely quiet, but at the close there was more disposition to operate. Prices have undergone no quotable change. Sales of 606 hhds Cuba at 10⅝a12¼c; 154 hhds English Island at 12¼a13; 134 hhds Porto Rico at 9c gold, 11¼a13½c currency; 60 bbls do at 13⅝c; 51 hhds Laguayra at 14½c; 50 boxes Havana, No. 12, at 11⅞c, and 300 bbls molasses sugars at 9¼a10¾c. We reduce our quotations for refined ½ cent.

Teas—The market for both blacks and greens, as is usual at this season of the year, is dull. Prices have been unsettled by the proposed change in the tariff.

NEW YORK, July 14—Coffee—With the postponement to December next of the Tariff agitation of a reduction of duties, buyers of Rio have come forward with more confidence, and the market is more active than for some time past, closing with a good demand and diminished stock, very firm at the previous currency. The cargo of 3,550 bags Rio, per Aquila, lately due at Hampton Roads, has been brought to this market. There is now no Rio known to be on the way to any port of the United States, our dates from Rio Janeiro being to June 8th. Stock of Rio and Santos here 187,292 bags. West India and other descriptions are neglected, and we have only to report 200 mats Java, in lots, at 25c, gold. The sales of Rio are 4,729 bags per steamer South America, 2,689 per Olivia Davis, 715 per Wayfarer, 1,150 per Alpha, 3,560 per Rheidal Queen, and 2,700 per Eagle, on terms we did not learn. By auction, 1,600 bags St. Domingo, damaged, sold at 20a22½c, cash.

Molasses—Prime and choice qualities, which continue scarce, are held pretty firmly, though the demand is quite moderate, but medium grades, which comprise the bulk of the stock, are dull, and may be quoted about 2a3 cents lower during the week past. The sales are 450 hhds and 69 tcs Cuba Centrifugal, at 279 hhds English Island on terms not transpired; 212 hhds and 12 tcs Porto Rico, 75@85c; 23 hhds common do, 60c; 200 Trinidad, P. 89, 59c; 11 Martinique 60c; 27 tcs St. Croix, 67c; 80 Nuevitas, 58a75c; 74 hhds 61 tcs and 61 bbls Cuba Muscovado in lots, 5 a57c; 35 hhds tart do, 49c, 4 months; and 24 bbls New Orleans, $1 20, cash. By auction, 24 hhds Porto Rico sold at 63a77½c; 20 do co 74c; 150 hhds Cuba, 42a44c; and 225 bbls New Orleans, 59a75c, 4 mos.

Rice—Is inactive, and we only notice sales of 150 bags Rangoon, in lots at $9 75a10 00; 1,000, in bond, part $3 50a3 75 gold; and 50 bbls Carolina, $12 50a13 00 cash.

Sugar—The demand for raw has considerably increased since our last, and though at one time Thursday, prices were a trifle lower, yesterday, with the advance in gold, there was a much firmer feeling, and the full previous currency was demanded, the market closing firm at our quotations on Tuesday last. Refined has continued in request, and prices are rather higher—say 16½a16¾c for hard, 15¾a16¼c for soft white, and 13¾a14¾c for yellow. Messrs. Stuart's prices remain as before. The sales of raw are 4,21 hhds Cuba at 10¼a13¼c; 387 do Porto Rico, 10½a14½c; 10 hhds 8 tcs and 56 bbls do Demerara, 12c; 105 hhds English Island, 11¼c; 176 Martinique, 10½a10¾c; 322 Guadaloupe, 10½a11½c; 24 hhds and 31 bbls St. Croix, 16¼a13½c; 4517 bxs Havana, 10¼a14½c, 4 mos, and 200 bbls Demerara, 168 hhds 40 tcs, and 100 bbls Clarified do, on terms not made public.

Tea—The market remains very quiet, but there is an improved feeling in view of the postponement of the Tariff agitation till December next. Sales 500 hf chests uncolored Japan 100 do, in bond and 1100 Green, on terms we did not learn.—Price Current.

Iron Markets.

BALTIMORE, July 14.—Iron is firm at former rates. We quote Baltimore charcoal forge at $45a47 50, and Anthracite at $44 for No 1 Ashland; $40 for No. 2 do, and $35 ℔ ton for No. 3 do. Scotch pig is selling at $46 a48 ℔ ton.

PHILADELPHIA, July 14—The North American says: Pig metal is in steady demand, at the advance with sales of No 1 foundry at $46a47, No. 2 at $44a45, and forge at $37a42 ℔ ton, and 200 tons No. 3 white iron at $40 ℔ ton. Scotch pig remains at last quoted. Blooms are dull, but prices are unchanged. Manufactured Iron—The transactions are in small lots only, but prices are well maintained.

The Commercial List says: Pig metal is in fair request, with sales of 500 tons No. 1 foundry at $46; No. 2 at $44; and forge at $42; 200 tons No. 3 white iron sold at $40.

Scotch Pig—The receipts and stocks are light, and the demand is limited. We quote at $46 ℔ ton, gold. The last steamer brings news of forty blast furnaces being blown out, and more expected, the serious difference between the makers and miners and colliers having led to an extended strike for higher wages, which the masters have combined to resist. The Glasgow market has advanced 5s. sterling ℔ ton. The reduction in the make of pig in Scotland by the stoppage of the furnaces is 32,000 tons ℔ mo., or nearly 400,000 tons per year. There is believed to be a prospect of much higher prices there, should the Bank of England reduce the rate of interest as expected.

Blooms are inactive. Charcoal may be quoted at $90a100.

Manufactured Iron—There is a firm feeling in the market, but not much doing. The motion to reduce the tax on railroad iron from $20 to $14 ℔ ton has been passed, and the rest of the tariff remains, but the agreed to by the House of Representatives, but the Senate has postponed the bill until December.

NEW YORK, July 14.—The Price Current says: There is a firmer feeling in the market for Scotch Pig, and improved prices are realized. We notice 750 tons Eglinton, here, 800 do Glengarnock, to arrive, on private terms; 200 do $47; and 300 do Eglinton, $44 50, ex ship. Gartsherrie and Coltness may be quoted sparingly, $49a50. American continues to be offered sparingly, and only at full prices; 200 tons No. 1 sold for October delivery at a price to be fixed then; 150 do, No. 1 Ex., $47a48, part at Hudson; and 50 do at $50; 250 do. No. 1 Ice besides 400 tons old rails, part at $53; and American Wrought scrap, from yard, part $55; and 1,300 bdls. American Sheet, 7½ cents currency for Doubles. Besides the above, we notice sales of 200 tons Northern Blooms at $85; Peru Billets $100 cash; and 55 tons English Refined Bar on private terms. There are now no invoices of English Bar offering, and the American Manufacturers are full of orders for the next three months. From store, there is less firmness than there would have been if the Tariff bill had passed, but in view of the facts stated above, there is no disposition to give way in prices.

BOSTON, July 14.—Pig iron is in fair demand at $43a48 for Scotch No. 1, and $40a52 per ton for American No. 1. Bar iron is in steady demand. Sales of common, at $110a115; refined $125a135 per ton.

New York Finance and Trade

Gold Closed at 152½@152⅜.

Weekly Review of Wholesale Market

Special Dispatch to Western Press.

NEW YORK, July 14, 1866.

MONEY.

The demand for money has been active this afternoon, and there was more business at 5 than 6 per cent. on calls. Prime discounts, 6a7 per cent. The market for exchange closed firmly, but very little is done.

GOLD.

The gold market left off at 152½a152⅜.

The shipments to day would have been large, but for some arrivals.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.

The Secretary of the Treasury has been exchanging 5-20 bonds for 7-30 notes for banks in some instances, and we believe is still willing to do the same thing, but it will hardly pay at the present price of the latter. The Government securities are steady this afternoon.

STOCKS.

The stock market closed up firmly.

PETROLEUM AND MINING SHARES.

Among the Petroleum and Mining brokers there was some little done on the street this afternoon; Bennehoff Run was $8 40@8 50; United States, $8 05@8 10; Consolidated Gregory, $18 50@19 00; Grinnell, $1 10@1 12; Quartz Hill, $4 20@4 25.

BREADSTUFFS.

There has been great depression in the market for new flour during the week owing to the large receipts and superior quality of the new productions. We understand the crop of winter wheat is likely to prove doubtful; family brands have declined $1 50 a bbl.; ordinary shipping brands have fallen 25 to 40c a bbl.; these are plenty and unsaleable; sound shipping brands are scarcer, and have advanced 25c. a bbl.; we quote common extra State at $7 40 to 8 65; fancy do, $8 10 to 10 65; shipping Ohio, $9 20 to 10 25; old St. Louis extra, $12 to 18; new do, $15 to 17.

WHEAT.

There have been several arrivals of new wheat, the quality of which is superior to anything exhibited for many years. It is uniformly good and very heavy. Sound wheat is scarce; millers are holding off in anticipation of large supplies of new at an early day. Old has declined about 10c a bushel. A few samples of amber Jersey have changed hands at $3 00 ℔ bushel, or three times as much as was obtained before the war. We quote No. 1 spring at $2 25 to $2 30; No. 2 at $2 00 to $2 20; Chicago spring, $1 40 to $2 00; old amber western, $2 70.

CORN

Has arrived freely, and with some decline in gold and less favorable news from Europe, prices are 2 to 3c lower. We quote western mixed at 86 to 86½c.

OATS

Have been active, but at low prices.

PORK

Has been in moderate request; dealers are generally absent from the market. There is an unusual apathy in the trade. The local trade is principally supplied with ice house cured, hence the jobbing trade at the Exchange is moderate for the season. We find our stock is diminishing slowly. We quote old Mess at $30 50, and new Western Mess at $31 50 to $32 12; City Mess $32 and rumps $29.

BEEF

Has been unusually dull, but owing to the reduced stock of choice qualities prices have been sustained.

CUT MEATS

Have been fairly active, but the stock is now about exhausted.

COFFEE.

The stock of Rio is heavy, but it is all in and no more is expected. The trade is out of supply, and dealers are buying more freely. There is no change in quotations.

COTTON.

The advices from Europe are favorable but have had no effect on this market. The crop prospects are daily growing more favorable. The demand is principally to supply the wants of spinners. We quote middling uplands at 35 to 36c, and New Orleans and Texas uplands at 36 to 38c. The sales for the week were 4,450 bales; receipts 6,053 bales. Since the 1st instant the receipts have been 15,170, and since September 1st, 872,449 bales.

PETROLEUM.

The market has been dull and irregular; receipts have been liberal, and stock much lighter; prices advanced 2 to 3c a gallon, closing at 21c for crude, 33½ to 38c for refined in bond and 53 to 55c for refined free.

SUGAR

There has been a good demand for raw sugars, principally to supply the wants of the trade. The stock is very large and prices have gradually declined. We quote fair to good refining, 10¼a10⅝c. Refined sugars are inactive and nominal.

WHISKY.

There has been a good inquiry for bonded whisky, and full prices have been obtained.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 14.—Money steady at 5a6 per cent. Sterling is firm at 10¼a10⅜. Gold without decided change, opening at 152½ and closing at 152⅝. Exports of specie to-day $104,343. Governments quiet. Freights to Liverpool a shade firmer.

The Commercial's money article says: Money is less in demand, but is by no means over abundant. Call loans range mostly at 5 per cent, with exceptions at 6 per cent. Discounts are dull, the rate for prime names being 6 and 7 per cent. Gold continues firm, though comparatively quiet as to speculative movements. The rate on loans about flat. In the stock market the chief activity is in Reading, Michigan Southern and North Western. The miscellaneous list is quiet. Foreign exchange is nominal at the closing rates of yesterday; bankers' 60 days sterling being quoted at 10@10⅝.

The Post's money article says: Gold is quiet and the transactions are limited. The lending rate is unchanged. The loan market is abundantly supplied with idle capital, offered at 5@6 per cent. Thirty millions of currency will be disbursed from the Treasury next week. The foreign market is quiet but firm. Governments steady; State stocks active; railroad bonds strong and bank shares quiet. A sale of 8 casks clear sides at 22c and 4 casks clear ribbed sides at 21½c. We quote shoulders at 16½a17c, ribbed sides 19½c, clear ribbed 21c, and clear sides 21½c in lots; plain hams in canvass 23c, and sugar cured 24½a25c. Lard in tierces 21½c, and in kegs 25c.

CINCINNATI, July 13.—George W Phillips, in reviewing the market for the week, says, in his circular, mess pork has declined, and there is now an apparent desire to unload by many parties, with some holders firm in the belief that if they hold long enough they will realize $35 00, but sellers are willing to accept $32 37 to 32 50 for choice city, and buyers at $32 25. Old mess remains nominal none of consequence offering under prices of new. No prime mess here except ice cured. Rump scarce and held at $25 00. Lard has declined to 20c, with sales of 600 tcs to day and yesterday, but at this price it is not freely offered; it is generally held at 20¼c. Head and gut scarce, and ½c less than prime. Grease firmer, but in light demand and supply; the transactions in the way of sales in light. Bulk meats especially shoulders have been the fancy article during the week with sales of over 1,000,000 lbs for forward delivery to operators, on the spot at 16½c. Sides remain quiet at 17½a17¾c; clear sides, 19½c—all loose. Hams are scarce at 19½c, to 20c. THE RIVER.—Last evening at twilight the marks indicated two feet five inches and falling. The weather was intensely warm. Unless we have rain speedily navigation will be suspended to all parts.

THE fine light draught packet New State, Capt. W. H. Harlan, leaves this day for Wheeling and intermediate points. This boat is well found in every respect. Capt. Harlan is one of the cleverest officers that comes to this port. She leaves at 12 M.

BROWNSVILLE AND GENEVA.—The Union packet Gallatin, Capt. Carline, leaves to-day at 5 P. M., for the above and intermediate ports. The People's Line packet Elector, Capt. Phillips, leaves for the same ports at the same hour.

THE fine new steamer Arabian, Capt. J. H. Bishop is announced for Cincinnati and Louisville on Tuesday. This boat is well found in every respect, and is in charge of as clever set of officers as can be found. Passengers who have traveled on this boat speak in flattering terms of her appointments. The first clerk is Mr. J. R. Bezell, an officer who is both clever and attentive.

Cincinnati.

July 14.—We condense the following from the Commercial:

The river at this point is receding very slowly, with five feet on the shoalest bars to Louisville, with four feet in the canal and one-half foot on the falls. The Cumberland is falling, with twenty-eight inches on the Shoals. The Lower Ohio is falling, with seven feet on the bars.

JEFFERSONVILLE, IND., July 13.—There are twenty-six inches in the steamboat pass over the falls. The Camelia passed down to-day. No other arrivals or departures, outside the local packets.

EVANSVILLE, IND., July 13.—The weather is hot and clear. Thermometer 94°. The river has fallen three inches to-day. Business is moderate. Port List—Armada and Nashville, Cairo and return; Silver Cloud, New Orleans to Cincinnati; Newsboy, Henderson and return; Myrtle, Cumberland river to Evansville; J. P. Webb, to Canton; Tarascon and Mary Ament, Louisville to Evansville. The Silver Cloud had but little freight in sight.

There is only thirty inches on Harpeth Shoals and falling. The Webb will only go to Canton this trip, and will probably go to Tennessee river next week. The Myrtle could not get over Harpeth Shoals.

The Gazette of the same date says:

BOATS IN PORT.—Armadillo, Kate Robinson, Golden Eagle, Harry Dean, Tahlequah, Pine Grove, Naugatuck, Camelia, Rose Hambleton, Leonidas, Emma No. 3, Lorena and Minneola.

The Jacob Strader has been towed to Madison, having been purchased by Messrs. R & O. Neal, for $25,000. They will use her machinery in the construction of their new boat.

A CURIOSITY.—There is to be found at Livesey's saw mill, Licking river, a miniature side-wheel steamer, called the Wren, built in Cleveland, Ohio, at the cost of $3,000. Her captain assures us that she is able to make two miles an hour up stream.

BETTER.—Capt. Pat. Rogers, reported dead on Thursday, was decidedly better yesterday morning.

DULL TIME.—The Nashville papers of Thursday report that there have been no arrivals or departures of steamboats at that place for two days. There were no boats at Memphis Tuesday evening.

Louisville.

July 1[illegible].—We condense the following from the Courier:

The river was falling rather fast yesterday, with four feet two inches water in the canal in the evening, by the mark. During the previous twenty-four hours it had fallen three inches at the head of the falls, and nine inches at Portland. The weather was clear and warm, the thermometer ranging from 85 to 88 in the shade, and the atmosphere oppressive.

On the falls there were twenty-six inches water in the pass, down the Indian chute, and falling.

The Cumberland river is falling, with twenty-eight inches water on Harpeth shoals, and no steamboat arrivals or departures at Nashville for forty-eight hours.

Memphis.

July 12.—The weather yesterday was uncertain and changeable, as regards shades and lights, but the atmosphere was close and warm. The river rose gradually at the rate of three inches per twenty-four hours. The Sam Merwin, after taking her tow of 50,000 bushels of coal to Island 65, returned for Louisville, passing here early yesterday morning. The Mollie Able passed up with a fair trip of people. She put off a few small lots of freight here, and had for points above, 145 boxes of sugar, 300 bars of railroad iron, besides numerous lots of miscellaneous freight. The Bee passed down without stopping, having four model barges loaded with produce and one coal barge in tow.

New Orleans.

July 9.—Matters on the landing bore a dull appearance, it being the Sabbath, there was nothing of interest done. The arrivals were the Big Grey Eagle, from Vicksburg, T. H. Hine and Alabama, from Red River; Nina Simmes, from Bayou Sara; New Louisville and W. R. Arthur, from St. Louis, and the Messenger from Cincinnati.

St. Louis.

July 13.—We condense the following from the Democrat:

The river is stationary. A rapid decline to six feet in the channel is looked for. The Missouri is declining, with six feet to Omaha. There is in the upper Mississippi to Keokuk five and a half feet of water in the channel, but it declined eighteen inches since Saturday last, and is now going down steadily. At St. Paul, or rather at the bars near that town, there is less than three feet of water, which excludes the big boats from navigation. The Illinois is in the last stage of decline. Only twenty six inches between Pekin and Peoria, and thirty inches on the Naples flats. The Cumberland is about played out for the present. Captain Rice, of Lacon, informs us that the Illinois continues to decline. Business is not dead here yet. The Northern Line packet left yesterday, loaded almost to the guards. Her rooms were full and considerable engaged for passengers. The Memphis packet, and a boat for New Orleans, got about all the freight they wanted. Weather intolerably hot.

Fannie Scott is, we understand, the name of a fine 500 ton stern-wheel steamer being built at Pittsburgh for the enterprising St. Louis firm of H. S. Mepham & Bro., owners of several other steamers. She will be ready for business in the fall. The Fannie Scott is designed, we learn, specially to ply in the Little Rock and New Orleans trade, for which she will be adapted in all particulars of accommodation, speed and capacity. We do not know that the commander has been chosen, but it is understood that M. L. Boyles, Esq., will have charge of the office. Mr. Boyles, having lately visited New Orleans on important secret business, and succeeded in his task, has gone up to Wheeling to meditate "old the associations of his youthful days."

The Commonwealth brought 120 head Texas cattle here recently, and another boat 20 head. They were the property of an Illinoisan, and are now luxuriating on the green prairies of that State.

The popular steamer Yorktown, Capt. Ebert, leaves for Cincinnati and Pittsburgh to-morrow. The Wabash is announced for the same points.

A Cairo correspondent of the Saint Louis Democrat says:

A coal barge towed by the steamer Missionary from Johnsonville to Hickman, containing 1,200 bars railroad iron and two cars, sunk at the foot of Eddy street at Hickman in thirty feet of water. The Missionary had delivered the barge to the consignees two days previously.

The steamer Shark came up light; returned with heavy tow of coal.
